Lebanese Rebels Try to Take Premier's Offices

Truman Suggests President Invite Nasser to Visit U. S.

Urges Support of All Citizens For Ike's Action in Middle East

BY HARRY S. TRUMAN

(Copyright—1958)
The situation in the Middle East is one of extreme danger, and the president having taken a first and necessary step, the United States and the free nations of the west must be alert, determined and exceedingly careful not to leave any room for misunderstanding as to what we are prepared to do at all stages.

Our objective is to prevent a third world war. Our aim is to ensure the peace of the world, and we have devoted our wealth and energies to that end at great sacrifice.

The president has made a momentous decision and proclaimed a policy which every citizen of the United States should support.

I hope, too, that we will find a way to create an atmosphere of genuine bi-partisanship in which our foreign policy can be supported by all citizens. For it is necessary that those who are trying to destroy the free world clearly understand that we will unanimously support the man who takes the leadership—and that man necessarily will have to be the president of the United States.

For some time I have been worried about the steadily worsening prospects for peace and for the arrangements and organizations we have set up to help keep the peace. I have been frankly concerned that the same fate that overtook the League of Nations might also befall the United Nations. This

New Regime in Iraq Asks for U. S. Friendship

Delegate to UN Would Retain Ties With West

United Nations —P— The delegate of the rebel regime in Iraq arrived yesterday and declared "our friendship for the United States is still the same."

The United Nations was familiar ground for the rebel delegate, Hashim Jawad. He represented the overthrown Iraqi government in the United Nations until last fall.

Jawad presented his credentials for a seat on the security council. The Soviet Union tried to have them accepted at once, but deferred action when Britain objected. Abdul Majid Abass, who succeeded Jawad as U.N. delegate, remained in Iraq's seat.

Jawad touched on Monday's revolution in a talk with reporters. He said King Faisal II and Crown Prince Abdul Ilah were shot and killed only after they resisted army officers who appeared at the palace.

Denies Jamal Killed
Jawad said Premier Nuri Said, strong man of Iraq, was found later attempting to flee disguised as a woman. He asserted Nuri Said also was shot and killed when he elected to fight it out.

Jawad denied that Fadhil Jamali, former Iraqi spokesman at the U.N., was killed, as reported earlier this week by U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. He said Jamali was in jail awaiting trial along with other political leaders.

Jawad also denied communists took part in the uprising, declaring "we are against communism." As for the future, he added: "There will be parties, there will be elections and there will be everything that we have missed for the last 10 years. We will have a welfare state."

He said Iraq, where the west has big oil concessions, will live up to its economic and political obligations, subject to modifications "to make them suitable to the changing world." He did not elaborate.

German Reds Blamed For Mission Attack

Berlin —P— The United States today accused the East German communists of organizing yesterday's mob attack on the U. S. military mission at Potsdam. The rioters looted the mission and burned two American flags.

Charge Through Grounds Of Mission School; U. S. Troop Air Transport Hit

Beirut —P— Lebanese rebels charged through the grounds of the American mission school today to attack the main building of the Lebanese government.

The building houses the office of Premier Sami Solh. The mission compound houses a girl's school, a theological seminary and a mission printing plant.

Reports from the scene said rebels entered the compound and launched an attack on Lebanese security forces who were trying to set up wire barricades in front of the main government building.

While they were setting up the barricades the rebels opened fire and drove security forces back to the government building. The rebels got close enough to throw two bombs inside the courtyard of the building, injuring one guard but doing little other damage.

Oil for British
Small arms fire nipped a U.S. transport flying a load of American troops into the Middle East today amid a campaign of dire warnings from President Nasser and his communist backers.

As the crisis moved toward a verbal showdown in the U.N. General assembly, 1,700 U.S. paratroopers began landing in Beirut to support the 6,300 marines quietly patrolling Beirut's ports and beaches.

An authoritative U.S. source said more troops from the 24th Infantry division were almost certain to arrive here, possibly tomorrow. He would not say how many were due. The men flew into Beirut airport over the section of the capital held by pro-Nasser rebels. Presumably their bullets hit the transport.

One bullet came within six inches of Sgt. Normand J. Charrest, navigator of a marine transport bringing men from Camp Lejeune, N.C. The paratroopers commanded by Brig. Gen. David W. Gray came from Germany after a stop over at Adana, Turkey.

Nasser's Warning
Gray said he expected all 1,700 of his men to be on the Beirut airport by midnight, cleaning out the paratroop force at Adana. The jumpers were to take over control of the airport from the marines.

Most of the force from Adana is composed of the 1st Airborne Battle group of the 24th division's 187th Infantry.

The U.S. Air Force will begin flying oil tomorrow to the 2,000 British troops in Jordan, an officer announced.

Saudi Arabia refused to let U.S. planes fly fuel from the Persian gulf across that country.

"I wasn't scared, but I'll never go out picking berries again," said Francine. "We didn't see any bears but we wouldn't have been frightened if we did because Mike would have barked at them."

Mike, a small, black cocker spaniel nestled in the girl's lap as she talked.

The children left the home of their grandfather, Lyle Crego, at remote Ash lake Wednesday afternoon to pick blueberries. It was 5:30 p.m. yesterday when Edward Cornell, Valparaiso, Ind., saw them trudging along a narrow road near Elephant lake, where he and relatives were vacationing.

"We can't go for a ride, we've got to get to grandpa's house," Francine told Cornell. Upon his promise to take them there, they did get into his car—some 10 miles east of where they started.

The children ate blueberries, raspberries and June berries, washed down with what Francine called "that dirty, old swamp water." They slept on beds of boughs.

Reorganization Bill East Germans Approved by Senate Free 9 Fliers

Compromise Measure May Be Sent to President by House

Washington —P— Unanimous senate passage spurred administration hopes today for a congressional compromise that would give President Eisenhower most of the broad powers he wants to streamline the Pentagon.

With a surprising burst of speed and bipartisan backing, the senate last night passed legislation requested by Eisenhower to authorize a reorganization of the defense department.

The vote was 80-0 and came after only four hours of debate on the bill regarded as one of the most controversial before this session of congress.

Back to House
The measure now returns to the house which earlier approved a version containing some features strongly objected to by the president.

If the house balks, as expected, at some of the senate changes, the bill will go to a senate-house conference committee for attempts at compromise.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the senate armed services committee, said changes made by his group go a long way toward overcoming the administration's objections.

At the same time, he said the changes attempt to quiet fears that the secretary of defense would be given power to abolish or reduce the marine corps, naval aviation or the national guard.

The senate bill specifies that all three are established by law and that advance congressional authority is needed for a major revision.

Would Reduce Bickering
Russell, who engineered senate passage, said the upper chamber's version would sharply curtail interservice bickering and rivalry, as well as reduce costly duplications among the army, navy, marines and air force.

"The overall contribution made by this bill will be one of greater military effectiveness," Russell told the senate.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said the measure would give the defense establishment flexibility to handle such events as the Middle East crisis.

The major change made by the senate was elimination of a house requirement strongly opposed by the administration that the secretary of defense exercise his broad powers through the secretaries of the army, navy and air force.

In its place, the senate version continues a requirement for separate organization of the three branches but spells out clearly that the secretary of defense is the top man in authority.

Cuban Rebels Free Remaining U. S. Servicemen

Guantanamo, Cuba —P— Fourteen U. S. servicemen, the last North Americans kidnapped by Cuban Rebels, were freed today on direct orders of Fidel Castro "so that you can go fight in Lebanon if your admiral so desires."

The 14 remaining men of the 50 U. S. and Canadian citizens were airlifted by helicopter to the U. S. Navy base on Guantanamo bay yesterday. They were among 29 sailors and marines on a picnic bus which rebels seized June 27.

The men were clean-shaven and apparently in good health. The wholesale liberation followed the arrival of a high-ranking rebel officer at the jungle hideout of Raul Castro, the brother and lieutenant of the leader in the insurrection against President Fulgencio Batista. The officer bore an imperative order from Fidel that captives were to be released immediately "because of the situation in Lebanon."

Says Bayonets Can't Check Nationalism
Durham, England —P— British labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell said today the wave of Arab nationalism cannot be checked by American and British bayonets.

"Nor," he told a miners' meeting, "should we be unsympathetic to this movement in the Arab states. I don't think it is fundamentally hostile to our interests."

Additional money because of the Middle East situation.

Two of the senators said Eisenhower was told prospects are dim for getting more.

They added that the group told Eisenhower that they see little hope the house would go along with the senate in restoring the full $597.1 million.

It was suggested the senate might restore 400 to 500 million but the house would likely balk. The likelihood, the senators said, was a compromise for 300 to 400 million dollars in restored funds.

The senate appropriations committee completed work on the foreign aid bill yesterday and is expected to begin voting on its provisions about next Wednesday.

Eisenhower, in talking to the senators, reportedly stressed the urgency of the need for a full restoration of the cut administration might even seek funds, declaring the "security

Agreement Reached Through Efforts Of Red Cross Units

Frankfurt, Germany —P— East Germany today released nine American army men held prisoner since their helicopter strayed across the Iron Curtain June 7.

U.S. Army headquarters in Heidelberg announced their release was arranged under an agreement between the American and East German Red Cross.

"The men were cheerful and appeared in good health," the army announcement said. None is from Wisconsin.

East German authorities handed them over to the U.S. Army at the East German border in Bavaria, from where they were brought to headquarters of their unit—the 3rd armored division in Frankfurt.

Early Talks Failed
The first hint of a break in deadlocked negotiations over release of the men came yesterday from the East German foreign ministry in reply to Associated Press questions. A spokesman disclosed U.S. officials had called on the ministry Wednesday and Thursday to resume the deadlocked talks.

The first round of talks broke down June 19 over communist demands that the United States negotiate on an inter-government level and sign a diplomatic accord covering the hand-over of the men. The U.S. State department refused, holding that the signing of a formal accord would imply diplomatic recognition of the East German regime. The U.S. representative at these talks was Col. Robert McQuill of Bluefield, W. Va., chief liaison officer to the Soviet army in East Germany. He was not in the diplomatic service.

Fugitives Elude FBI and Police

Boulder Junction —P— A half-dozen FBI agents and twice that many Vilas county officers set up roadblocks Friday night, but failed to flush two armed big city dwellers who escaped into rugged country after a gun battle with police.

Vilas county officers said they thought they had the pair cornered near the airport here Friday evening.

The wanted men are both Milwaukeeans, John R. Chipman, 27, and Raymond S. Emery, 26, named in a federal fugitive warrant and sought by Milwaukee and Crandon police in connection with burglaries and safe crackings.

of the country may be involved."

Another senator said Eisenhower "told us this is especially necessary in view of the tense situation in the Middle East, and the problems flowing from it within the past week."

Secretary of State Dulles—who sat in on last night's meeting—also went to bat for the foreign aid bill in an appearance earlier yesterday before the senate appropriations committee.

Dulles' Appeal
He said events in the Middle East make it imperative that the house reductions be restored. If the tactics of communist imperialism succeed, said Dulles, the United States will find itself "encircled and subject to strangulation."

Dulles said if the house cut in defense support funds stands it will mean "an unacceptable risk of disaster in Turkey, Spain, Korea, Formosa, Viet Nam, Pakistan and Iran."

Iraq Cuts Ties With Jordan

Notifies U. S. of Withdrawal From Union With Neighbor

Washington —P— The revolutionary regime of Iraq has notified the United States that it has withdrawn from the Arab union with Jordan.

Saleh Mahdi, ranking diplomat at the Iraqi embassy, said he informed the state department at the Iraqi embassy of this in a note yesterday.

He said he acted on instructions from the rebel group which seized power in a lightning coup Monday.

Deny Hussein Authority
The Iraqi withdrawal challenged the authority of King Hussein of Jordan who asserted after the Iraq revolt that he was now legal head of the two countries.

"As far as we are concerned, King Hussein has no relationship whatsoever with us," Mahdi told a reporter.

Mahdi said he delivered the note to Assistant Secretary of State William Rountree in a call at the department yesterday. Mahdi said he also told Rountree.

The new Iraq regime is ready to cooperate with the United States to evacuate any of the 1,964 Americans in the country if the state department believes this necessary.

Search Under Water In 2 States Fails to Offer Clue to Plane

Prairie du Chien —P— The search for a missing plane with four persons aboard was carried under water in two states Friday, but failed to develop any new leads in the hunt that began a week ago today.

Diver Earl Miller of Boscobel dropped into the murky waters of the Wisconsin river near here, but found only old logs and debris.

At Muscatine, Iowa, a gravel pit was dragged for more than five hours until the sheriff's officers were satisfied.

Aboard the plane when it left Mitchell field in Milwaukee a week ago Friday were the pilot, Lester Weber, 43; his wife, Lorraine, 41; his brother, Richard Weber, 42; and Richard's wife, Frances, 29.

Uncle Ray Presents Facts on How Far Away Planets are From Sun

BY RAMON COFFMAN

Today I shall review facts about the distances of the planets from the sun. Let us suppose that we are able to make a model of the solar system on a flat field.

At the center of the field, a foot from the center. Then comes Uranus, 149 feet from the center (almost 50 yards).

The eighth farthest from the sun is Neptune. According to our scale, the distance is 233 feet, or almost 78 yards.

In an article on Neptune, during the solar system tour, two digits were omitted — at least in some editions — from a figure for Neptune. If you saved that article, will you please look it up, and make sure that the sentence reads: "It has an average orbit computed for Pluto gives 2,792 million miles."

Still farther out is Pluto. The orbit computed for Pluto gives it an average distance from the sun of almost 37 hundred million miles. In making our scale model, we place an object representing Pluto at a distance of slightly over 100 yards from the center.

The fourth object is Mars, with a distance of 11 feet and nine inches.

The gigantic planet, Jupiter, comes fifth. It is 40 feet and three inches from the center in our scale model.

The sixth object is Saturn, 74

Wells, Springs Need Periodic Checking, Claims Dr. Molner

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I read your article about having well water tested. What about spring water? I just bought a new place 23 miles from town, with spring water piped into the cottage. The septic tank is just outside the bathroom and bedroom window. Is this safe? How and where can I have the water tested? As far as I'm concerned, it's just water that is piped into a large hole in the ground and then piped into the cottage. It just has a board over the top with a screen over it. An occasional frog, leaves, etc., get in. Isn't there some way of purifying this water? Also isn't there a chance of odor from the septic tank in hot weather? This is all a new experience for me.—A.A."

Don't feel lonesome. It's a new experience for lots of people as we continue to move farther out from the cities and into the areas where city water and city sewage lines don't exist.

There isn't much difference between a well and a spring, except that with a spring, pressure from somewhere forces the water out of the ground and to the surface. Springs as a rule will be on hillsides, or at the bottom of a hill, although there are some ground configurations which seem to make water bubble up to the surface. Actually, if you can trace the water to its source, you'll see that it still has to be pushed to the place where you find it.

Now your well—or spring, or reservoir — anyway, the place where your drinking water collects, isn't too clear to me. I can't entirely visualize it, but I guess your spring feeds into a pool, and the pool is covered by boards. That isn't too practical. The cover isn't primarily intended to keep frogs from jumping in. It is intended to keep surface water (which may be contaminated) from seeping in. Therefore, your cover, instead of boards and netting, should be tightly waterproof to keep out rain, drippings, and surface water from getting in.

Usually Filtered

A spring, you see, as a rule will have filtered out any dangerous impurities as the water gradually flowed through sand and gravel underground. (I said usually. The only way to be sure is to test each spring periodically.)

So my first suggestion is that you get in touch with your state health department and arrange for periodic tests of your water. They'll tell you how, and how often, for your locality. For people in states where this is not done (pretty rare; I don't know, frankly, where that might be the case) then ask your doctor to help you find a private testing laboratory.

As for your septic tank near the house — that's of no great moment so long as it is kept clean and operates efficiently. The tile field where the flow-off goes is probably the most important factor, and it should be a good distance away from both the house and the well. I suggest at least 100 feet for safety.

Special Council Meeting Set to Air Bond Issue

Kaukauna — A special meeting of the common council has been called for 7 o'clock Monday night to discuss the proposed bond issue for school improvements with officials from other municipalities within the Kaukauna district.

The city is to float a $400,000 bond issue for improvements and additions to Park and Nicolet schools. Town chairmen from Vandenberg and Kaukauna along with the president of the village of Little Chute have been invited to attend since the district extends into these areas and these municipalities will share in the bond retirement.

Plans call for the city to ask for separate bids on the issue, one asking for an interest rate on a 15-year retirement plan and the second on a 20-year retirement plan.

Pays $20 Fine After Accident

Little Chute — Judy Otto, 19, 536 N. Union street, Appleton, was fined $20 in justice court when she pleaded guilty of inattentive driving.

She was arrested following an accident at 1 o'clock Thursday morning. Her car struck the right rear fender of a vehicle driven by Carl Sanders, 20, 807 Monroe street, Little Chute, at the intersection of Main avenue and Monroe street.

UN Security Council Good Entertainment

Lacked Compelling Interpretation by Experienced Reporter

BY JINGO

If it did nothing else, the television coverage of the United Nations security council Thursday night provided some good entertainment.

What it lacked, of course, was the authoritative interpretation of a reporter like Jingo.

John Daly and Walter Cronkite at the national political conventions a few years ago.

The CBS-TV news boys tried, but any actor could have told them they'd have to be incisive with what they say to be convincing. You got the idea they weren't just to sure what to make of anything.

But, then, it was obvious from speeches of delegates, they were having the same trouble.

For what it's worth, there's a code under which those newsmen and cameras brought you the meeting. It was drafted recently by the radio-TV industry's national organization, the National Association of Broadcasters.

It states: 1. Newsmen will conform to established procedures, customs and decorum of the security council.

2. The authority of the presiding officer must be respected. He makes rules of order and conduct.

3. Maximum use must be made of modern techniques. Equipment must be unobtrusive. Coverage has to be pooled when necessary. Call letters are forbidden except in exclusives.

4. Commercialism, if any must clearly be separate from the hearing and are subject to the wishes of the presiding officer.

5. Commentaries are limited to recesses and outside the hearing room. Some comments may be made during lulls in proceedings.

Jingo's Jewels: Mickey Rooney's scheduled appearance on Ed Sullivan's show Sunday has been postponed a week.

ABC-TV has obtained 170 Harvey cartoons, produced by Paramount, for first run on television.

Ricky Nelson's bodyguards on his most recent personal appearance tours are Paul Cameron, former UCLA All-America tailback, and Jack Ellena, another former All-America from UCLA now line-backing for the LA Rams.

Andy Williams has done so well subbing for Pat Boone this summer, he probably will be part of a monthly hour-long NBC-TV show scheduled to alternate with Dinah Shore on Sundays.

"Television," says John Crosby, the noted TV critic, "is gradually — not gradually, rapidly — becoming a huge bingo game." He's talking about quiz shows.

Wendell Corey has called an end to "Harbor Command," the TV series. Matter of money... Kim Novak and Tab Hunter are making a movie called "Beach Boy"...

Jeanne Carson and Margaret O'Brien have signed to play in "Little Women" on CBS-TV Oct. 16... Perry Mason has as many as 40 million viewers some nights, they say... The new poetry and jazz art movement will be heard on ABC-TV's "Stars of Jazz" July 28... Robert Horton will star in "A Delicate Affair" on CBS-TV's "Studio One" July 28... The new Patti Page show will start on ABC-TV Sept. 23... "Show of the Month" has four productions set for next season on CBS-TV. They are "The Count of Monte Cristo," "Victory" by Joseph Conrad, "The Little World of Don Camillo" and "What Every Woman Knows" by Sir James Barrie.

Guerrilla Film Made in Wilds Of Philippines

Hollywood — These days, a film actor has to be prepared to travel anywhere, even to the headhunter country of the Philippines.

That's where Keith Andes went for a picture called "Blackburn's Guerrillas." "It was originally called 'Blackburn's Headhunters,'" the actor explained, "but the Philippine government prevailed upon us to drop that title. They don't like to admit that there are any headhunters left in the islands."

Purpose Behind It — "But there are. They were operating in the area where we were shooting the picture. I noticed a little item in the paper before we left that the natives had captured eight heads. 'They don't capture heads indiscriminately,' he explained. 'They always do it with a purpose — when they have been wronged. They point out that we give medals for soldiers who kill people in war. Well, instead of medals, they collect more tangible evidence.'"

"Blackburn's Raiders" is the true-life story of Lt. Don Blackburn, an American army officer serving in South Viet-Nam, who headed for the hills after the Japanese conquest of the Philippines. He harassed the invaders until the liberation, amassing a force of 20.

Because of Their Past Success with huge tent sales, Sears-Roebuck will erect a "bigger-than-ever" tent at the American Legion club grounds on W. College avenue across the street from the Elm Tree bakery, officials of the store announced Friday. The tent sale is scheduled to begin on Tuesday, July 22 at 9:00 a.m. and will continue through Saturday, July 26 at 9:00 p.m. Above is a view from last year's tent sale, showing the throngs which turned out for the event.

Firm officials promised a bigger tent, more merchandise and bigger savings than ever for this year's sale. First class merchandise at big savings will be featured including carload and truckload lots of furniture, appliances, rugs, heating, plumbing and kitchen equipment, plus many other non-home furnishing items, such as: power mowers, paint, iron railings, ladders, boats and shotguns.

Lunches will be served each day of the sale by members of the American Legion, it was announced.

Sears suggested Friday that readers bring their whole family to stay all day and enjoy the carnival atmosphere under the "big top." Hot dogs will be sold for only 9 cents, and free pepsi-cola and Fairmont ice cream bars will be given away, so readers should stop by whether or not they plan to buy, the firm said.

According to Mr. W. T. Bernhard, manager of the Appleton Sears store, the merchandise will be offered to the public at up to 50 per cent savings. Customers may open new accounts or use their old ones right at the big tent, he said.

Free pony rides will be available on the sale grounds, and music will be furnished on a Hammond organ, courtesy of the Hammond Organ company of Green Bay.

Good Looks in the Modern Manner, sparkling performance, and comfortable seating are featured in the English Ford, shown above, handled in the Fox Cities by Al Rudolf Motors, 300 N. Superior street. Shown is the Anglia two-door deluxe model; four-door models of the car are called "Prefects". The models also feature glide-ride suspension, thrifty engine, and world-wide Ford service. Phone number at Al Rudolf Motors is REgent 3-6687.

The popularity of the cars is high cruising speeds without advanced unit construction the extravagant use of fuel. Since the cars are the product of the Ford Motor company, Ltd. of Dagenham, England, famous Ford service is available on a worldwide basis.

Both cars are at home in any setting with their tasteful modern designs and color-coordinated interiors, according to the firm. Eight single and three two-tone body colors are available on the cars.

Fuel Savings. Engines in the cars give brilliant acceleration and maintain Automatic Vending Machines of many types, such as those shown above, are on location all over the Fox River Valley under the auspices of Zaugg Vending Service of New London. The firm has over 1,000 machines on location and is presently celebrating its 20th anniversary of servicing automatic merchandising machines in the Fox River valley. "From penny peanut machines (1938) to plant feeding (1958) is the firm's slogan for the year."

Readers may stop in at the Zaugg firm's headquarters at 211 S. Pearl street in New London and inspect first-hand the very latest in coffee, candy, cigaret, milk and hot food dispensing machines, and observe them in operation. They may then have a cup of coffee and see the clean, orderly premises and pleasant surroundings. "Try a cup of our coffee," owner Roger Zaugg suggested Friday. "There's a difference." Satisfied customers have built the business from its humble beginnings to its present high volume. Vending service on everything "from soup to nuts" at the drop of a coin is available from the firm by phoning 85W in New London, RE 4-3545 in Appleton, HE 2-9906 in Green Bay, or BLK-1988 in Oshkosh. Zaugg said Friday.

Local Boy Wins Radio in Fairmont 'Space Travel' Contest

New York — Among the winners of prize awards in the "Pop-sicle" Space Travel contest is Gregory Ehke of 2402 N. Union street, Appleton, Wis., a customer of Fairmont Ice Cream Company. The contest required the entrant to identify space travel objects, and make up a name for an imaginary space station. Young Gregory's prize is a Regency Transistor Radio.

Vans in the caravan went directly to dealers with their loads after the welcoming. About 40 per cent of the appliances are G.E. refrigerators and freezers, 30 per cent washers and dryers, 20 per cent travel objects, and 10 per cent air conditioners and dishwashers. They were produced at G.E.'s Louisville plant.

G.E. OPERATION UPTURN GETS SALES PUSH

General Electric's operation upturn got a new boost when 50 vans containing about 2,000 G.E. appliances arrived in Wisconsin for distribution to retailers throughout the state.

The caravan, arranged for by Major Appliances, Inc., G.E. distributor for Wisconsin and Upper Michigan was welcomed by state and Milwaukee government officials as well as G.E. dealers from the entire area.

Operation Upturn is G.E.'s program to accelerate the upturn in business by bringing better values and renewed confidence to the customers.

Edward C. Zabors, Major Appliance's president said the "confidence caravan" is a part of his firm's program to translate the philosophy of GE to specific local action with measurable results.

A Permanent UN Emergency Force

The landing of the Marines in Lebanon was, in part, necessitated by the chilly report of the observation team sent there by United Nations Secy. Gen. Dag Hammarskjold which denied the Lebanese government's contention that there was "massive intervention" in Lebanese internal affairs by the Nasser-controlled United Arab Republic. This report may seem to argue against creation of a permanent United Nations Emergency Force, which President Eisenhower has urged, to move in to put out fires before they explode the world, but more likely such a force could have been employed in Lebanon without the observation team. After all, the United Nations had the request of the president of Lebanon for help.

Resolutions approving the establishment of such a force were introduced in Congress more than a year ago. Representatives of scores of member nations have gone on record in favor of such a force. It was argued that, had the UNEF been in existence at the time of the Hungarian tragedy, it might have been able to restore order before the Russians moved, and even possibly have deterred the tank assault. And yet nothing further has been done in the UN about establishing such a force. This may show how much control is wielded by Arab nations, or simply indicate how little positive action — except in the gravest emergencies — the UN can muster.

The present UNEF, on duty along the Gaza strip, was authorized as far back as 1950 by the UN "Uniting for Peace" resolution which gave the General Assembly the right to take collective action in case of threat to, or breach of, the peace, and a permanent stand-by force was contemplated at that time. The troops sent to clear up the mess and restore order after the withdrawal of French and British forces after the invasion of Egypt in 1956 were recruited from countries not members of the Security Council. Twenty-nine nations have offered troops.

Obviously the UNEF is not equipped to fight a war. Its value is partly moral as a deterrent, certainly physical for patrol, observation and guard duty. Moved into an embattled nation like Lebanon it would avoid some of the feeling of interference that even our requested Marines must inflict, and it would represent the public opinion of millions of peoples in many nations.

Since we frowned on the independent moves of France and England in their attempts to stabilize the Middle East situation two years ago, we have inherited the dubious honor of the right to send troops to maintain order. We must also foot most of the bill and get most of the blame. Undoubtedly we could stomach all that, yet our unilateral action, although requested and certainly necessary in this case, also serves to present us as using these smaller nations as battlegrounds in our war against the Soviet Union.

The United Nations General Assembly should establish a permanent emergency force which could be moved into troubled nations at the request of authentic and recognized governments. Then the UN should expel any nations, such as the Soviet Union, which refuses to contribute toward its maintenance.

Picture Window or Goldfish Bowl?

The tremendous growth of housing developments throughout the country has enabled many more people than formerly to own their own homes. But author John Keats has issued a vitriolic warning in a book called The Crack in the Picture Window and architect Frank Lloyd Wright echoes some of the charges.

The housing developments began to mushroom after World War II when the combination of lack of building facilities for so long, a whole new generation of young families demanding living space, jobs opening up in already crowded communities and the advantages of GI housing loans came together. Probably the great majority were strictly honest although Keats lists facts, figures and communities where corruption and greed made suckers of the new homeowners.

But aside from the dubious integrity of a few of the developers, Keats takes the viewpoint that such developments, at any price level, kill the hope for privacy and make the lives of the inhabitants, particularly the women, as frustrating and soul-destroying as the filthiest tenements.

The closer we huddle together, the greater this pressure for conformity becomes, and today's housing development gives impetus to this pressure in every way. The physically monotonous development of mass houses is a leveling influence in itself, breeding swarms of neuter drones. I submit, as proved, that these drones are prey to drift and abysmal boredom, and cannot be said to have lives of their own. I submit housing development combine the worst disadvantages of suburbs and city slums without reflecting the advantages of either.

Keats may go overboard with his fears of conformity in the United States. But certainly Wright has a point when he says that "the most precious and valuable thing in human life is privacy and if you are not defended against intrusion where you live you haven't got a home." It is a fundamental belief of our society that the prime molding force of children is the influence of home. Certainly the trend toward identical houses, inside and out, similar decorations, picture windows, planter lamps and wall-to-wall carpeting doesn't tend to breed individuality in youngsters. If society must always continue to try to keep up with the Joneses, at least let the Joneses have something different and worth trying for.

Housing developments per se cannot be regarded as evil influences. But zoning provisions, particularly in rural areas, are becoming more and more a necessity to restrain and restrict such developments.

Electricity — A Great Bargain

It is no news to the man on the street, even less news to the housewife in the home, that the purchasing power of the dollar has shrunk substantially in the last two decades.

What many people may not realize, however, is that this shrinkage does not apply equally to all the goods and services we buy. In other words, the dollar has shrunk a good deal more when we spend it for some goods and services than when we spend it for others.

The rates and research department of the Wisconsin Public Service commission recently published some figures which shed much light on this area. These figures show, for instance, that when a housewife buys a pound of coffee her dollar — in terms of 1939 purchasing power — actually has shrunk to 25 cents. In other words she must spend $1 today to buy what she could have bought for a quarter in 1939.

Other figures on the list show that the 1939 dollar has shrunk to 29 cents when used to buy a new car, 40 cents for food, 44 cents for newspapers, 48 cents for fuel oil, and 49 cents for clothing. Since it is generally agreed that the over-all shrinking in the dollar's buying power makes it worth 52 cents today compared with the 1939 dollar, obviously the prices of these items have increased at a faster pace than the price level in general.

Other goods and services, while they cost more today than they did in 1939 in that it takes more dollars to buy a specified amount, actually cost less in terms of the depreciated dollar. The 1939 dollar has shrunk to only 56 cents when spent today for gasoline, beer or telephone service, 64 cents for rent, and 90 cents for heating gas. In other words these items have increased in price at a lesser rate than the price level in general; or to put it another way, their prices actually have decreased when we adjust the value of the dollar to reflect inflation.

But the most spectacular price story is that of electricity. The cost of electricity to Wisconsin consumers today is actually less — in unadjusted dollars — than it was in 1939. The 1939 dollar, instead of shrinking in buying power, has become more valuable when spent for electricity — it is worth $1.03 today. Thus the actual cost of electricity to consumers — in terms of dollars adjusted for inflation — has been cut in half in the last 20 years. No wonder so many people use electricity for so many things!

It is interesting that the one industry that has been able to reduce its prices while all other industries were increasing theirs also is the one that has taken the most abuse at the hands of politicians and "protectors of the consumer." Here we have an industry that has made its product available to the consumer for a much smaller proportion of his income than in former years, yet we are constantly being told that this industry is "greedy" and that its function should be taken over by the government!

July

The pines stand clear against the dawn
High on the brow of the hill
Motionless in the windless air
Their murmurings now are still

Then swift as whispers on the wind
Comes the sun's first golden ray
Light falls softly over the land
The birth of another day

Gray mists on the drowsy river
Sparkle in the morning light
Heron's loaf on the sandy shore
Mallards rise in hurried flight

Rushes grow tall beside the pond
Where the wood ducks come to play
Hollyhocks parade their beauty
In gardens along the way

A woodchuck sits beside his den
Basking in the summer sun
Through the hours of drowsy stillness
He nods-till the day is done

Frogs in the faraway marshlands
Fling their call along the shore
The tune of the cricket's fiddle
Is heard in the air once more

The quiet of the twilight hour
Comes creeping across the sky
Dusk lies deep in the tamaracks
The day is ready to die

The low hung lantern of the night
Looks down on a startled fawn
Shedding its pale radiant glow
It rides to another dawn

Congress Should Have Heeded Harry's Advice

From the Elizabeth, N. J., Journal.

Gossip lovers who love gossip for gossip itself and are always in their element at any hint of clay brogues in the house of the gods have joined forces with political head hunters in taking Sherman Adams apart. However, regardless of what any congressional scrutiny may yet find out about Bernard Goldfine's addiction to doing lovely things for lovely people, the bumper fact still remains: We should have listened to Harry.

If congress had listened to the independent soul from Independence away back in 1951, Mr. Adams would still stand forth unchallenged as the perfect example of a rockribbed former governor from a rock-ribbed state. Almost seven years ago the then President Truman cut a pattern which, barring deliberate perjury, would have kept vicuna a word familiar only to zoologists and the very rich.

Truman knew the annoyance (and the dangers) of scandals within his own administration. Consequently it was a thoroughly aroused president who asked congress in September 1951 to pass legislation which would require federal officials getting more than $10,000 a year, judges, high political party officials and members of congress to make public annually all their sources of income including loans and gifts.

Even more demanding than Truman was the senate subcommittee on ethics headed by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) which sought to have officials disclose also their assets, liabilities and securities dealings. This was a proposal certain to capture the spotlight and congress responding with characteristic enthusiasm to the call of headlines debated long and loud, but finally running out of steam, took no action.

That isn't to say that there are no federal laws that thunder and threaten dire things against bribery, that condemn conflict of interests, kickbacks and all that sort of mischief. Still, for all their law writing, somehow, the lawmakers never seem to find time to eliminate the vagueness and the loopholes with the result that for many unethical practices in government the greatest threat of punishment lies in the unfavorable publicity that a t e n d s exposure — and "nine day wonders" are still very much in style. Washington should have listened to the captain from Missouri.

Every Third Family Hit by the Recession

BY ELMO ROPER AND ASSOCIATES

One third of the nation has felt the impact of the current recession. This means that close to 60 million people have been affected in some degree — either by loss of employment or loss in income — by the economic malaise that has crept across the nation in the past year. A nationwide cross section was asked this question:

I'd like to know a little about how the recession has affected you personally. Which of these statements applies to you?
I or someone in my immediate family is out of work	10%
While no one in my family is out of work, our family income is less than it was a year ago	22
Our family income is the same as it was a year ago	52
Our family income is higher than it was a year ago	14
Express no opinion	2

What job statistics do not show is the millions of people who while still at their jobs, have suffered cuts in pay or in overtime. The official figures do not record how many salesmen are facing unaccustomed sales resistance, to the extent that their families face unaccustomed budget restrictions. Nor do they reveal the number of factory workers who have dropped from a 5-day week plus overtime to a four or 3-day week. Yet such people represent a group more than twice as large as those actually unemployed.

High though these figures are, they still leave the majority of the public untouched by the 1957-58 downturn.

They also reveal a substantial segment who are actually better off than they were a year ago. This last group is of course a mixture of people on their first jobs, people who benefit from automatic pay increases, as well as those working in businesses or industries that are actually doing better this year than last.

Inevitably, the economic blight is spread unevenly over the economic scale. Among people whose normal standard of living is above average, the better off and the worse off balance each other out. But among those already on the economic margin, half the families have suffered a setback in their standard of living:

	High or upper middle income	Middle income	Low income
Out of work	3%	7%	21%
Income lower	18	21	26
Income same	56	57	43
Income higher	20	14	8
Express no opinion	3	1	2

In addition, the old belief that Negroes are "last hired, first fired" gains substantial backing from today's results. Only 9 per cent of white families have an unemployed member at the present time, but 24 per cent of Negro families report this sad statistic.

Rural Recession Worst

Although cities like Detroit have been hard hit, in general people in large cities have weathered this year's rugged economic climate better than people in small towns and country areas. While in cities of 100,000 or more, 28 per cent either have a family member out of work or reduced family income, the corresponding figure for people from towns of 2500 or less and those living in rural areas is 37 per cent.

Since farm income is up somewhat, the rural recession appears to reflect a loss of job opportunities off, rather than on, the farms. With agriculture demanding less and less manpower, country and small town people have been turning more and more to forms of industrial employment within community range of their homes. Apparently this kind of employment has dropped sharply.

Regionally, Midwest e r n e r s and Southerners are most affected. The lowest "out of work" figure is reported for families in the Northeast. The Far West, whose unemployment figures are as high as those of any other part of the country, also shows the greatest number of people better off.

	East 6%	Midwest 11%	South 12%	Far West 12%
Out of work
Income lower	23	23	22	18
Income same	58	50	51	46
Income higher	12	14	11	21
Express no opinion	1	2	4	3

What do these figures mean? They make it clear that the blight of unemployment spreads quickly beyond those who actually lose their jobs. A dip that has not earned the name, depression, has none the less reduced the economic well being of a full third of the nation's families.

Looking Backward

Flouring, Other Mills Planned

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of July 19, 1879.

Boult's six-run flouring mill is being constructed as fast as men and money can accomplish it.

The project for the establishment of a flax mill — an oil mill and a factory for producing bagging and toweling — meets with favor and will doubtless be entered upon soon.

Parties are now making estimates for the erection of the eighth flouring mill, the water power being already secured. Thus we stride on to become the second city in the State.

Wiley Post, American round-the-world flier, took off that morning from New York. He was flying the white and purple Lockheed plane, Winnie Mae, in which he and Harold Gatty made their round-the-world record of 8 days, 15 hours, 51 minutes in 1931.

Dr. H. F. O'Brien, Appleton, was to preside at the third annual convention of the Wisconsin State Bosworth association at Beaver Dam Sunday and Monday. About 150 dentists from Wisconsin, northern Illinois and Southern Minnesota were expected to attend.

Attending the convention of the National Business and Professional Women in Chicago were Miss Lynda Holtenbeck, Miss Laura Fischer and Miss Verena Murphy.

Young people of Mt. Olive Lutheran church named delegates to the national Walther league convention in Chicago were Arthur Kahler, Leonard Krueger, Evelyn, Reinke, Edna Wendt, Mildred Hooymann. Hilda and Esther Harm were to attend from St. Paul church.

Resignation of Petrillo Should Cause No Tears

Working up any tears over the resignation of James Caesar Petrillo, long-time czar of the American Federation of Musicians, is difficult.

A sigh of relief is what comes more naturally. Up until the very last there had been a gnawing fear that some of his sycophants might persuade him to stay on.

Few union leaders have been more arrogant and despotic than he, both within and without his organization. And the tagline, "Courtesy of the American Federation of Musicians, James C. Petrillo, president," has been an indignity foisted off on the American people too many years.

Petrillo, who laughs about requiring eight years to get through the fourth grade, was the one who kept school-children-musicians off the air from Interlochen camp in Michigan. He defied the war labor board, refused an appeal by President Roosevelt, became embroiled in dozens of offensive brawls and was publicly proclaimed as the man who "has done more to prevent symphonic music in the U. S. than any other man in the history of the country."

If ever a man richly deserved retirement, his name is James Caesar Petrillo. From the New Orleans States.

St. Luke, a Physician, Historian and painter from the city of Antioch, wrote the third gospel and the Acts of the Apostles, dealing with the early days of Christianity. Like Mark, he was not numbered among the 12 apostles, and, also like Mark, he accompanied Paul on many missionary journeys. When all others deserted Paul during his final imprisonment, Luke remained, a steadfast friend and in Paul's words a "beloved physician."

During my recent tour of religious sites in Europe and the Middle East, I visited this famous prison, the Mamertine, in Rome. The dungeon has only one entrance a hole in the ceiling. The door in the wall leads to another cell. (AP Newsfeatures)

Rainbows, Big Bear Climax Alaskan Trip

Jack Frenzl Lives Dream Had by Hunters, Fishermen Everywhere; Journeys Into Virgin Wilderness

BY JAY REED
Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

Jack Frenzl was telling about it and, as he spoke, his eyes glistened.

Strange words — Kokhonak lodge, Rainy pass, Iliamna lake, Cook inlet — tumbled from his lips like drops of rain off the back of an Alaskan brown bear.

Frenzl, 3617 E. Wisconsin road, was recreating a dream that he had lived — a dream which has, at one time or another, haunted the heart of every man who has ever hunted or fished.

Describes Journey
He was telling about his trek into the virgin wilderness of Alaska in search of the bulky, brawny, brownie and the rugged rainbow trout.

In the steaming, sticky heat of a busy office, with the sounds of mid-afternoon traffic rumbling through an open window, Frenzl described his journey. And, as he talked, the heat disappeared. You stood with him in the rain on the foothills of an island mountain off the coast of Alaska watching a huge, brown bear lumber toward the salt-laden lowlands left dry by a receding tide. You saw the bear again over the blue-black barrel and through the sights of Frenzl's rifle.

You felt the solid jolt as he squeezed the trigger and you saw the bear flinch — then fall. There were no more sounds of traffic as you stood again with Frenzl — this time on the banks of a clear, cold Alaskan river. Your arm ached with tiredness left in it by the fight of a 10-pound rainbow trout, thick and deep-colored and bigger than you thought it was possible for a rainbow to be.

Frenzl flew from Milwaukee to Seattle, Wash., to Anchorage where he was met by his outfitters, Bud, Dennis and Jim Branham. His gear, rifle, camera equipment and heavy clothing had been shipped ahead.

Base Camp
The Branham's, as do all Alaskan outfitters and guides, operate almost entirely by airplane. It was a 250-mile flight from Anchorage to the base camp — a 64-foot tug with complete living quarters.

His first objective was to bag an Alaskan brown bear. The hunting procedure was relatively simple. With one of the Branham's as pilot and guide, they'd take off for the narrow gorges of the Kokhonak area. They'd set down, walk up into the terrain at the foot of the mountains and wait.

On the fourth day Frenzl located the bear he wanted — a 900-pounder with a good coat. He dropped it at 300 yards. It measured 9 feet from tip to tip.

In the four days, Frenzl said he had seen about 18 bears of various sizes. It was a matter of waiting for the best bear and the best opportunity for a clean kill. The biggest hindrance, aside from rain and an almost constant fog, he said, were mountain streams, numerous in all the off-coast Alaskan islands. They run deep, swift and wide, making crossing impossible.

Rainbow Trout
After shooting his bear, Frenzl and the Branham's moved to another camp at Iliamna lake. This body of water is over 100 miles long and an average of 30 miles wide. Out of it pours the Kokhonak and the Copper rivers.

There Frenzl encountered rainbow trout fishing which he described as almost beyond belief. Fish struck on nearly every cast. They ran to an average of about 6 or 7 pounds each. Frenzl netted several 10-pounders and one 12-pounder. He used a spinning rig, for the most part with a small dardel or a French spinner although, he declared, the fish would take almost any lure offered them.

There were only five white men, trappers, at the Iliamna lake base. A tribe of Indians were camped nearby, however. After the first hour of fishing, Frenzl removed the barbs from his tackle so that the fish could be returned to the water unharmed.

Foul weather prevented him from seeking out the Arctic grayling but, he said, he was content to test the rugged rainbows.

'I'm Going Back'
To round out his trip, Frenzl shot a hair seal in the Urus bay area. The seal offers a challenging target since he rarely exposes any part of his body except the tip of his nose.

Frenzl, a veteran hunter and fisherman, thus will add several trophies to his extensive collection. The hair seal will be there, along with the prize rainbow.

And the 9-foot, Alaskan brownie will grin up at him from the floor, forever calling him back to a part of the world that few white men have ever seen.

Frenzl's answer is simple. "I'm going back," he says. Anyone can understand why.

Jack Frenzl, 3617 E. Wisconsin road, poses with the pelt of his 900-pound Alaskan brown bear he killed during a trip to Alaska. The bear, freshly skinned at the time this picture was taken, measured 9 feet from tip to tip.

Not Content With His Alaskan brown bear trophy, Frenzl tested the country's rugged rainbow trout. He holds a 10-pounder and a 12-pounder taken on a light spinning rig. Bad weather prevented him from trying for the famed Arctic Grayling.

Fisheries Division Seeks to Share in Land Buying Plan

83 Possible Projects Set By Official

Madison — The state fisheries division is making a bid to share in the state conservation department's land buying program which thus far has been largely confined to game habitat leases and purchases.

Dr. E. W. Schneberger, head of the state fisheries division, has submitted a list of 83 possible projects to the conservation commission for proposed state ownership during the next decade.

The division has some funds on hand, from receipts of the higher fishing licenses fees last year, to make a start on the program, he said.

The whole of the list, however, is scaled to an expenditure of about $2,700,000 during the next 10 years.

Highest Priority
Schneberger said he wishes to give highest priority to about 32 parcels of land about which discussions have already been held with town and county government officials in the several sections of the state.

He described them as "critical," and as covering "prime trout streams, small-mouth bass streams and northern pike spawning areas."

but it will effectively focus attention on a troublesome area."

Arthur Greeley, north central states chief for the U. S. Forest Service, is worried about deer damage in the big upper Wisconsin national government forests.

A part of the problem is the difficulty of access by hunters to some of the sections where the deer ought to be thinned out, he conceded.

He and his fellow officials are now reviewing the laws and regulations, to determine whether they can pursue a more liberal policy of rescuing, with federal trucks, plows and other equipment, the hunters who run the risk of being snow-bound when they enter the remote forest regions.

In some sections of the Chequamegon and Nicolet national forests, he said, foresters are concerned because deer are consuming browse at a rate twice that which the forests can sustain and remain healthy.

Outboard Motor Tax Proposed as Means for Raising Fish, Game Funds

Marvin Lederer, Jefferson county member of the executive council of the Wisconsin conservation congress, has an idea to raise more money for fish and game improvement programs.

The national government should levy an excise tax on outboard motors, similar to that already applicable to hunting and fishing gear, he says. Many non-fishing owners of power boats, he said, are spoiling the sport of fishermen on southern Wisconsin lakes.

"They ought to contribute a little," he said.

Fifty-six sportsmen and other residents of Manitowoc county have signed a petition to the state conservation commission for the restoration of the state bounties on wolves and foxes.

Such restoration could only be achieved by legislative action. The bounty law was repealed by action of the 1957 legislature, with the backing of the conservation commission.

The Vilas county board, always sensitive about the deer cropping policies of the state conservation commission because of the value of deer as a tourist lure, has asked that a part of the revenues of the department derived from the new "party permit" system be plowed back into the deer counties, including Vilas, by way of special deer food improvement work.

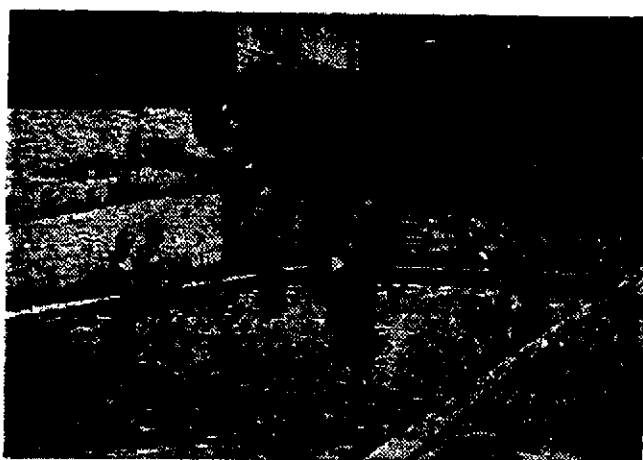

The conservation department's plan for a special 7-day deer shoot in the far northern counties following the regular nine day state-wide season in the fall is partly conceived as a propaganda device.

It may be that not many hunters will be tempted to travel to the northern counties for the late season, and especially if weather conditions appear unfavorable.

J. R. Smith, state game chief, concedes that chance, but he adds: "This may not solve our problem of surplus deer there."

Two Versions of 'Easy' Line

Multi-Faceted Is the Shape that fashion predicts for the fall season. The easy line of the unfitted silhouette is the predominant influence and takes many names, as specified by individual designers. Among these are creations by Harry Frechtel and Mildred Orrick, successor to the late famed Claire McCardell. At left, Frechtel uses looped mohair, one of the season's new fabrics, for this suit designed along his "tender trap" silhouette. A nutria collar tops the Parma violet colored material. Valued in these terms, prescribed medicine is truly beyond price yet it is priced within the means of all.

Old Maid of 15 Feels 'Rules' of 'Going Steady' Need Revision

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm 15, and half the fellows in town are mad at me already because I refuse to go steady.

I started to date a year ago. Being a new girl in town, I was rushed off my feet. After two or three dates, every one of the fellows said if I went out with anyone else they wouldn't date me again. I talked this over with my faculty adviser and my mother. They both said I should not go steady and to keep dating several different boys.

I wonder now if I got good advice. Things are different from when my mother went with fellows. She never heard of dating a straight program with the guy who brought you, but that's the way it is today. Do you think they should revise "the rules" to fit the times? Please help me before I wind up an old maid.—TIZZY

You can revise "the rules" Toots... but the human beings are going to remain the same. Everyone wants someone who is desirable and nothing will change that.

Sure the fellows all want to go steady. It's natural for a guy to want to glom on to a good thing. But the smart girl says no. They may refuse to date you, for awhile, but they'll be back when they see it's going to be on your terms or not at all.

And dating a straight program is for the bob-o-links. You might as well stay home, turn on the hi-fi and dance all evening, just the two of you.

DEAR ANN: I am a girl 21 in love with a man 30. He's divorced and has custody of his two children.

A few weeks ago we decided to get married. I'm willing to take his children and be a mother to them. My friends tell me I'll run into all sorts of problems because a step-mother is always competing with the natural mother. I don't want to take anyone's "place." Ann, all I ask is a chance to do my best. Do you think this marriage has a chance?—BETH

Yes, if your husband has custody of the children, there must be a very good reason—so don't be defensive. A step-mother can do better than a natural mother in some cases—it depends on the individual and the situation. Good luck.

DEAR ANN: Is it proper for a married woman, age 26, with two young children to head up a bowling club and drive ten miles once a week to get there?

On her bowling night, the dishes sit in the sink and I have to put the kids in bed. When I told her to hire a sitter she said, "Nothing doing. It won't hurt you to stay home with your own sons one night a week."

Also, she's in church work up to her neck and the telephone rings constantly. She's always baking a cake for a bazaar, driving a relative to the airport, or hauling junk in the car for a rummage sale. Everyone comes before her own family. How about laying her out in good old Landers style?—SHOVED AROUND Excuse me, Dad, if I don't sit down and cry with you. Your wife sounds like a happy, active woman, and you should be darned glad of it.

If the dishes sit—so what? Has the board of health registered a complaint? Bowling is better than booze, boy-friends or barbituates. I'm heartily in favor of Pa sitting with the kids now and then. There's no substitute for getting acquainted with your off-spring.

If you could read my mail from husbands who have real trouble, you'd send your wife a dozen roses. Quit beefing. There's a lot more right with your marriage than wrong with it.

Asks Advice On Pair of Leaky Pipes

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Question: We have a problem with two leaky pipes. One is an old, unused flue in our kitchen. It has been painted, but the paint is chipping. There is a constant leak from this flue. A cold water pipe runs along the living room and dining-room walls. It sweats and drips. How can we fix these pipes?

Answer: Wrapping with insulating tape, inexpensive and available at hardware stores, will cure the condensation problem. I'd also recommend putting a plug in the top of the unused flue so that rain won't get in it.

Putting In Sidewalk Question: When is the earliest time to put in a sidewalk? We have been living here a year and would like to do the work as soon as possible.

Answer: When all chances of very cold weather is past. The sidewalk and other outdoor concrete jobs can, of course, now be worked on.

Aluminum Door Question: How can I clean my aluminum door? It is a screen door, dirty and dull.

Answer: Well-stocked paint and hardware stores, and some housewares dealers, now carry aluminum cleaner preparations. If it is not available in your community, clean the metal with one of the fine scouring powders and "0" steel wool. Rinse thoroughly with clear water as soon as possible. Wipe with kerosene (being careful of fire hazard) which will evaporate and leave thin protective film.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Johnson Wittenberg Couple to Note Golden Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Johnson, Wittenberg, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday with an open house at the American Legion club.

The former Anna Erickson and Mr. Johnson were married at First Lutheran church, Wittenberg, on July 15, 1908, by the late Rev. P. P. Houghlum. After their marriage they lived in Wittenberg until 1927, when they moved to Chicago, where Mr. Johnson was a machine contractor. They returned to Wittenberg nine years ago to make their home.

Mrs. Johnson is 72, was born in Chicago and came to Wittenberg as a small child. Mr. Johnson is 74 and was born in Waterford, and spent his childhood in Wittenberg.

Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mrs. Clara Larson, Baton Rouge, La., who was one of the attendants at the wedding, will be present at the celebration Sunday. Also present will be their three daughters, Mrs. Frank Doering, Mrs. Elmer Jensen and Miss Olivia Johnson, all of Chicago, and their three grand-children and four great-grandchildren.

The University of Wisconsin summer school students have selected these seven young women as candidates for their summer prom queen. The lucky girl will reign at the dance festivities on Aug. 9 in Madison. From left to right are Meredith Griffin, Moline, Ill.; Mary Graham, Moline, Ill.; Lenore Zams, Des Plaines, Ill.; Susan Smykla, Pine Hills, N. Y.; Arlene Burr, Youngstown, Ohio; Nancy Roberts, Cleveland, Ohio, and Frances Kerrigan, Oak Park, Ill. (AP Wirephoto)

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Moede, Black Creek, and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Christianson, route 1, Shiocton.

Miss Moede, who will be given in marriage by her father, has chosen a cousin, Miss Henrietta Schwandt, Neenah, to be her maid of honor. Mrs. Clayton Hansen, Gillett, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Marvin Krull, Nichols, the bridegroom's sister, will be bridesmaids.

Flower girls will be Dawn Richardson, Thiensville, and Cheryl Krull, Nichols, nieces of the bride and bridegroom, respectively.

Twin brother of the bridegroom, Robert Christianson, Shiocton, will attend as best man, with the bride's cousin and brother, Beverly Poes, Shiocton, and Gerald Moede, Appleton, as groomsmen. Mr. Hansen and Mr. Krull will serve as ushers.

Forget It, Mrs. Post Tells Mother

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a son who is just 3 years old, and who incidentally is the only grandchild on my husband's side of the family. Needless to say they are very proud of him. My husband's mother, however, has one habit that is most annoying to me. Everything the child does, or says, that shows intelligence is just like her family, and his less admirable traits stem from my family. I tried overlooking it at first but there's a limit to my patience. This may sound trifling to you but I can hardly keep from "blowing my top" at times. Don't you think this is very rude on her part? Also, have you any suggestions as to how to handle this situation tactfully?

Answer: My suggestion, most earnestly given, is that you forget the entire situation since it is one that 99 out of 100 daughters-in-law have to learn to endure and the sooner you do it, the better.

Nonsense!

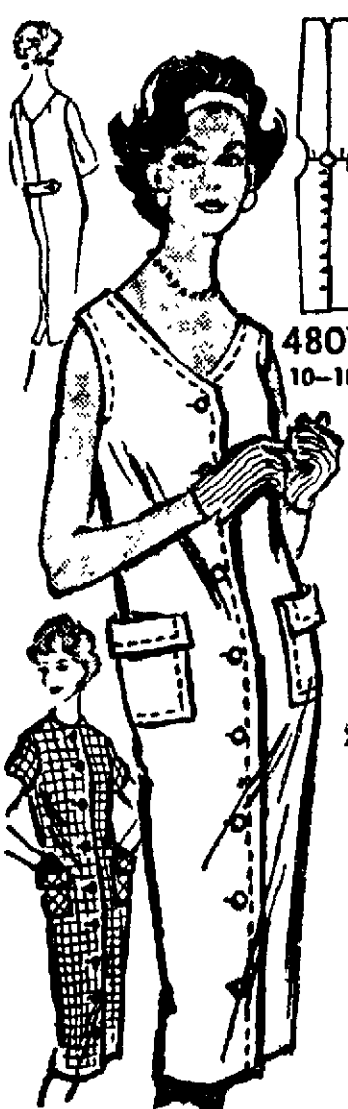

Dear Mrs. Post: I am planning to go to Europe shortly and among other things bought a very pretty red dress which I had planned to take with me. I have been told that red is not properly worn abroad and that in many foreign countries a woman who wears red is considered a person of questionable character. Will you please tell me if such a thing is true?

Answer: Nonsense! Red is worn by ladies everywhere in Europe—except of course to a funeral.

Gift To Strange Bride Dear Mrs. Post: My cousin is going to be married soon. His bride-to-be is from another city. I have not met her. I would like to know where to send the wedding present. Would it be proper to send it to the bridegroom since I do not know the bride-to-be's address?

Answer: If you can't find out where she lives, you will have to address it to the bride in care of the bridegroom.

'Solid Gold Cadillac'

Wide Variety Shown In Attic Theater Cast

BY BETSY DAVIS

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Occupations ranging from housewife to clothes designer are represented among cast members in Attic theater's "The Solid Gold Cadillac".

The fifteen actors, who spend their daytime hours in a dozen different kinds of work, opened the thespian group's summer season last weekend with "Cadillac", a spoof at big business. The comedy offering is slated for three more performances tonight, Sunday and Monday evenings at the Jefferson school gymnasium. Curtain time is 8:15.

Henry Ashauer, the play's "Big Mac" McKeever, hails from a Darby farm and in his off-stage hours works as a wholesale salesman of electronic parts and components.

Appleton Lawyer Urban Van Susteren, Appleton lawyer, appears in "Cadillac" as a board of directors member, the larcenous Snell.

It's a much different line that's pursued by Mrs. Henry Hackbarth, an Appleton housewife. Mrs. Hackbarth, secretary to McKeever in the Attic Theater production, is the mother of three.

Neenah - Menasha has a finger in the "Cadillac" cast in James Auer, Menasha. Auer portrays Gillie, another board of directors member, but in everyday life he is assistant to the editor of the Twin City News-Record.

Theodore Cloak is narrator of the play. He is the one cast member who claims theater work as his regular business. He is head of the drama department.

partment at Lawrence college, director of the college theater, and Attic theater's own manager.

Charles "Chuck" Schuman's usual occupation is sales work. He's a third board of directors member—Blessington—in the comedy.

A triple job is the daily story for Mrs. Joan Hoffmann. She is an Appleton housewife, mother and real estate salesman. Mrs. Hoffmann plays Mrs. Partridge, a gentle old lady who creates havoc in a huge corporation with a mere ten shares of stock.

Three Appleton college students, Miss Jeanne Voll, Daril Riley and Jim Larson, add their talents to the comedy. Miss Voll appears as Miss L'Arriere, a satire on screen actress Marilyn Monroe. Larson and Riley play two of three newspapermen.

Filling out the cast are: James Graper, an Appleton construction worker cast as Metcalfe, a board of directors member.

Roy Baumruk, a clothes and furniture designer from Appleton, playing a newspaperman.

Mrs. Horace Chaney, an Appleton woman who makes her home with her son, Lawrence college professor William Chaney, in the role of a "little old lady."

Mrs. Marion Smith, Kaukauna, an accounting department employee, cast as Mrs. Partridge's private secretary.

Thomas McGuire, Menasha, former air force man and Lawrence student-to-be, who plays Mark Jenkins, mail clerk.

There's one thing most Attic theater members do have in common—a love for the theater.

"It's amazing to me the kind of enthusiastic support we get from the people who come to work for the theater," says Cloak.

Truman Suggests President Invite Nasser to Visit U. S.

would be a great tragedy, and I expect that many anxious generations would pass before there could be built another international organization to cope with the recurring dangers of war.

It was in that troubled mood that I recently returned from a visit to the Mediterranean where I thought about the trend of events as they concerned us and the other free nations in that part of the world.

Emergency Action

I would have preferred, as I am sure the president would, to call first upon the United Nations for action on the plea of President Chamoun of Lebanon for help. But under the circumstances, there was no time to deal with the emergency, because it was obvious that the Russians would have delayed any action in the security council until help of any kind would have been rendered futile.

In the recent past, I have been openly critical of some of the misjudgments and the drift in the conduct of our international policies. But this is no time to dwell on the past. The president, it is now evident, has adopted a policy of positive action.

Positive action, of course, does involve certain risks, but we have learned from experience that there are far greater risks in failure to act or in hesitation to act when we have to deal with the Soviet Union.

I therefore believe the president—considering all the circumstances—had no alternative than to respond to the call of the President of Lebanon and dispatch troops to that troubled country.

The president is right in proposing that American troops should be withdrawn as soon as the United Nations can make provision to send an international force to take their place.

Having taken this action in Lebanon, I think it is necessary that we make it clear to the Soviet government that the free world means business in its determination to stop communist intrigue and subversion in the Mediterranean. This should be done through formal diplomatic representation in concert with our allies.

New Approach

And I think this may be a good time for a new approach in Egypt. Under proper conditions, it might prove useful to a peaceful resolution of the Middle Eastern crisis to invite President Nasser to Washington for a frank and friendly discussion.

I wish we could have invited him much earlier—during the beginning of the Middle Eastern crisis. One of the things President Nasser does not seem to understand is that the hope for improvement of the lot of his people lies in his working with the west. On the other hand, if he keeps on flirting with the Russians and encourages them in their sinister campaign of indirect aggression, he stands a good chance of turning his country into a Mediterranean Hungary or Poland.

Arab nationalism can have no future in the plans of Russian imperialism. Nor is there any hope for a better future for the Arabs if, on the pretense of freedom, so-called republics are set up by brutal military coups, such as occurred in Iraq.

I think we would have a better opportunity to learn from President Nasser at first hand exactly what his aims are. At the same time, we ought to invite and welcome other recognized Arab leaders to come here so as to give full and equal consideration to their aims and problems.

There are many ways in which we could be helpful to the Arabs in their quest for security and freedom and a decent standard of living, and we ought to explore every opportunity to help.

I think we ought to make it clear to Nasser and other Arab leaders that the free nations of the world cannot be politically blackmailed because of their need for oil from the Middle East. The fact is that the free world now has access to ample oil resources outside the Middle East from which they can supply all their industrial, domestic and strategic requirements.

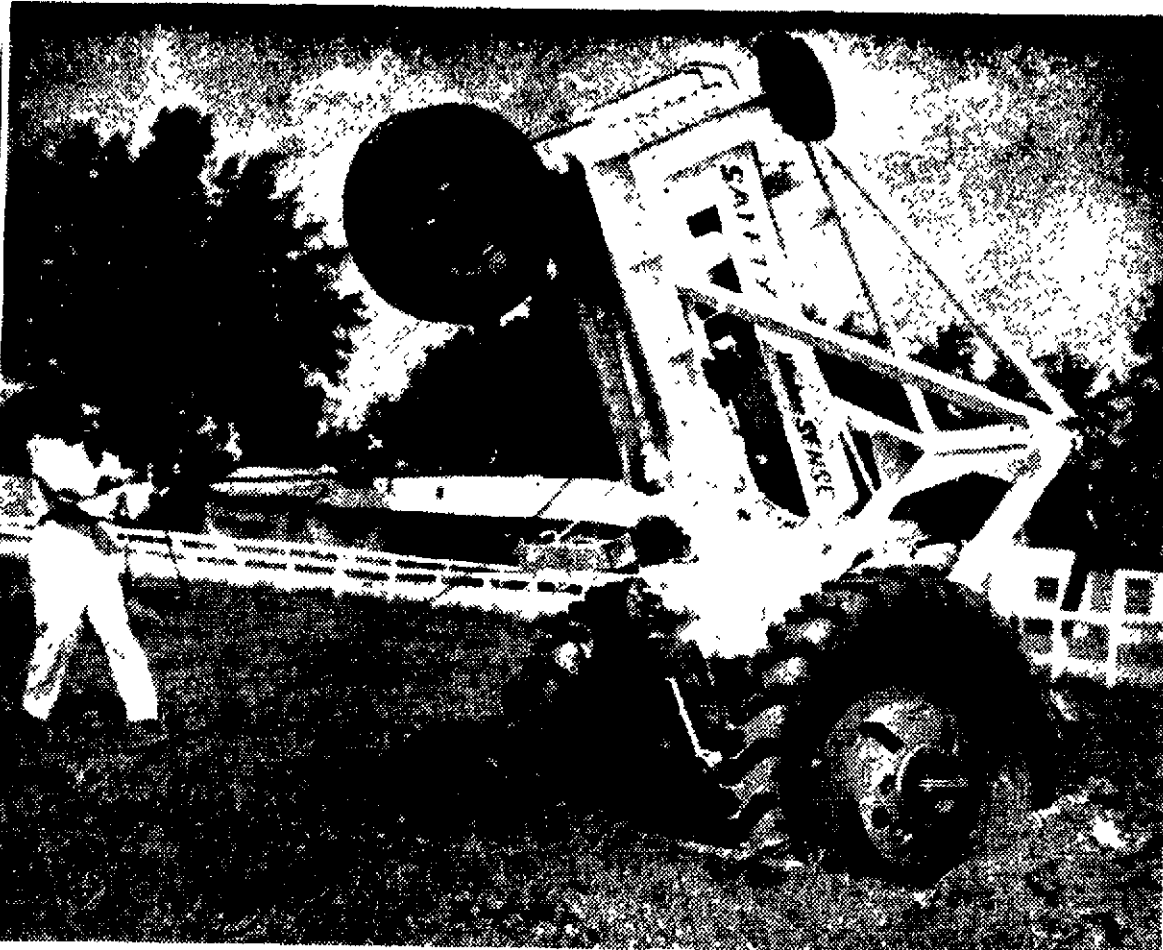

Serious Times

It would, therefore, be foolhardy for extremist Arab nationalists to cut off the supply of oil to the west. This would result only in chaos and economic disaster to them.

Before anyone in the Middle East is tempted to risk another crisis like Suez, I hope that he will think twice, because it will not work again.

I think the times are serious, and it is dangerous to minimize the difficulties we face. But I planned for the next year. The first meeting will be Sept. 16, and I am sure that we have an opportunity to clear the air of many wrong and false assumptions in our dealings with the Middle East.

We can now stand on firmer ground and seek to follow through in a policy of dealing resolutely and realistically with the Soviet challenge in that explosive part of the world.

Manawa Hires 2 New Assessors

Stevens Point Men Will Aid H. L. Crain In Contested Cases

Waupaca—The Manawa city council has hired two new assessors from Stevens Point following the resignation of two others who were hired to help Assessor H. L. Crain estimate values of home assessments contested at the board of review.

The two original assessors, Roy Rasmus, Waupaca, and Ben Harquist, New London, both sent letters to the council explaining that they had not appraised the contested homes in the light of resale value. They suggested appraisers from cities of Manawa's size be obtained for a correct appraisal.

Seven land owners and the city went through a circuit court battle in April with the property owners winning the right for a reassessment this year.

The retreat is located behind the Bethany home between the Crystal river and Shadow lake just south of Waupaca.

Work projects this week have centered around the beach, where sand has been spread and weeds removed. A dock is partially completed.

The campsite now houses 16 cabins capable of housing six persons each. A large combination bath house-dining hall has been completed and is in use. Next week, campers from a statewide area will be using camp facilities.

Fairgoers Shown How Not to Drive a Tractor

University of Wisconsin Takes Part in Safety Demonstration With 'Jughead' Driver

Hundreds of persons saw how not to drive a tractor Friday afternoon at the Outagamie county fair at Seymour. They saw a specially rigged tractor operated by men from the agricultural engineering department of the University of Wisconsin tip the tractor over backward and sideways in demonstrations of improper operation.

The demonstration was part of a safety program that included 4-H club safety speakers, an automobile brake reaction test and an exhibition of improper use of power take-off on a tractor.

The first tractor tipping demonstration showed how the tractor tor tipped over backward on level ground when the hitch was hooked too high on the tractor. A second demonstration showed the tractor going over backwards when logs were placed in front of the wheels in an attempt to give it more traction in climbing out of a hole.

Drive With Lines

With a unique arrangement for driving the tractor with lines at a safe distance, the demonstrators drove the tractor in a circle and rolled it over on its side when one brake was set suddenly.

To emphasize the violence of the fall, a straw dummy with a glass jug for a head is placed on the tractor seat. Needless to say, the jug is broken on the first fall and the dummy was out of commission for the rest of the demonstration.

One of the most spectacular demonstrations was when another straw dummy was caught in the power take-off and torn to pieces.

The safety talks were given by James Jurek, of Liberty Bell 4-H club, and Betty Vander Zanden, of Woodland Hustler's 4-H club.

The brake reaction test showed how far a car traveled at different speeds from the time the driver first thought of putting on the brakes and when the brakes took effect. The test was staged by B. A. Precourt, of the Wisconsin division of the American Automobile association, and Capt. Ronald Decker, of the Outagamie county traffic patrol.

New Record Set In Horsepulling Contest at Fair

Lena Team Breaks State Mark in Lightweight Class

A new state record was set Friday in the horse pulling contest at the Outagamie county fair at Seymour when a team owned by Walter Carriereau, Lena, pulled 3,125 pounds for the full test distance of 27½ feet.

The record breaking pull was worth $50 in first prize money for the lightweight division—up to 3,000 pounds.

Teams owned by Maurice Barkley, Seymour, won both first and second places in the heavyweight division. Barkley's first place team pulled 3,300 pounds for the full 27½ feet, while his second place team pulled the same weight 26½ feet. Second place won $40, third place $30, fourth place $20, and fifth place $10 in both divisions.

Other teams placing in the lightweight division were owned by Aubrey Skinner, Reedburg, second; Marvin Starks, Madison, third; William Rosenthal, Elmwood, fourth; and Elton Millard, Wanakee, fifth.

Others placing in the heavyweight class were Lyle Boelter, Randolph, third; George Wellner, Cadott, fourth; and Myron Reiland, Hortonville, fifth.

Interest in the horsepulling contest was high this year, with more teams entered than at recent fairs.

Visits by VNA Show Decrease During June

Staff members of the Appleton Visiting Nurses association made a total of 385 home calls in June. This is a decrease of 18 from May and 40 from last June, figures released by Miss Inez Davis, nurse director, show.

A case census shows 78 patients under VNA care at the beginning of the month, 54 new patients added and 59 dismissed during the month, for a total of 68 patients under care at the end of June.

A breakdown of pay status indicates that full payment was received for 217 calls and partial payment for 55. Five were under city relief, 20 under pension and 68 were non-chargeable.

Three new cases of tuberculosis were reported in Appleton.

Man Gets Probation For Assault on Wife

Warren C. Lessor, 37, route 2, Kaukauna, Friday was placed on probation for one year after he pleaded guilty of assault against his wife. He originally was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail but Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieg stayed execution of the sentence. Lessor's wife charged he beat her and locked her out of the house Wednesday.

Clues Sought To Identity Of Jane Doe

Omaha—A five foot, three inches, 125 pound dark-haired Jane Doe won't talk.

She won't talk to police, she won't talk to doctors, she won't talk to immigration men and she won't talk to a gypsy.

She won't talk under the influence of sodium amytal, the truth drug. Does she want her hair cut? She'll nod her head.

Who are her parents? She stares straight ahead.

Who is the girl in the shabby red ballerina shoes? Why won't she talk?

Those are the questions which have confounded Omaha police and everyone else who has tried to help since the girl was found wandering along the railroad tracks here May 27.

Authorities guess she is between 14 and 20.

In the psychiatric ward of Douglas County hospital the girl eats, watches television, thumbs through magazines. She obviously understands English.

"She's awfully shy, but she'll say—under her breath—please and 'thank you,'" says Mrs. Kathryn Hughes, a nurse.

She once replied "si" (yes) when asked if she spoke Spanish and once muttered "New York." But these have been about the only breaks in nearly two months of silence.

Her condition is described as aphasia, or mutism, by Psychologist Jack Dabney.

One Driver Slightly Hurt, Other Uninjured When Cars Leave Road

Thomas L. Marquardt, 19, route 2, Appleton, escaped unhurt although his 1951 model car was demolished when it left Highway 41 at Highway 10 and traveled 114 yards in the ditch before turning end over end Thursday.

Marquardt was going north about 60 miles an hour at the time of the accident, he told county police.

Frederick E. Wegener, 23, route 3, New London, received a cut on his forehead when his 1958 model car left Highway 45 and struck a tree about two miles west of Greenville.

Wegener told county police he fell asleep at the wheel. Damage to the car was estimated at $850.

Reckless Driving Charge Dismissed

A charge of reckless driving against Raymond Van Asten, 33, route 2, Kaukauna, was dismissed Friday in municipal court on motion of the district attorney and the arresting officer.

Van Asten was arrested by county police after an accident June 23 at County Trunk E and Coffey road in the town of Freedom. He earlier pleaded guilty to and was fined $15 on a charge of leaving the scene, but denied he had been driving recklessly.

Chain Letter Drive Urges Extra Effort in Fight Against Recession

Chicago—The chain letter, a product of the 1940s, now is being called upon to lift the recession. W. Clement Stone, president of the Combined Insurance company of America, started a chain letter campaign with 1,000 letters to his salesmen. He asked each man to make five copies of the letter and mail them to five fellow salesmen regardless of their types of business. The letters ask each man to engage in at least 30 minutes of additional selling time each day or spend the time in study, thought and planning. "By exerting every effort and all sound sales techniques, the nation's salesmen have it within their power literally to sell the country out of the recession," Stone said.

New Kind of Bean Bag Game Described in Today's Project

BY CAPPY DICK

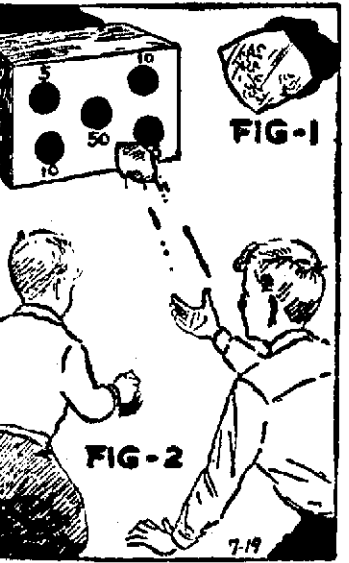

Bean-bags were used in games by your great grandparents when they were children many years ago. But the sacks full of beans are just as much fun today and this fun-project is a new kind of game to play with them.

One change is that modern bean-bags can be made of plastic rather than of cloth as in olden days. Use the plastic bags that many kinds of food

Hospital Best Place For Class Reunion of Expectant Mother

Omaha—As far as Mrs. Harold Rock was concerned, her nursing class couldn't have picked a better place for a reunion than Clarkson hospital. In the midst of the reunion, Mrs. Rock realized that something was about to happen which would take precedence over the reunion.

She took the elevator to the maternity ward where a short time later she gave birth to a 6 pound, 15 ounce son.

A carton is used for the target.

come in. Pour a lot of beans into a bag—enough to leave it soft and pliable (Figure 1), yet give it weight—and seal the bag with a warm flatiron. Prepare one for each player.

Next, make a target from a large carton. The only thing necessary is to cut holes in the side of the box (Figure 2), large enough for a bean-bag to be tossed through if aimed accurately. The holes may be arranged to suit your own ideas, but five of them will be enough. Print a point value beneath each hole.

You are then ready to play the game. Make up your own rules. For example, the winner of the game may be the player who is the first to score 100 points. Each player is given a bean-bag and is allowed one toss each turn, unless he lands his bean-bag in the hole worth 50 points, in which case, he may again try his luck.

Police Boat Ready for Any 'Big Lake' Disaster

Craft on Call Throughout Season, Prepared for Any Sailing Trouble

Neenah — Lake Winnebago sailors can ply their craft in assured safety on the big lake, largely due to the confidence they have come to place in the Neenah police boat.

No estimate has been made of the lives saved by the boat crew, but, as Chief Irv Stilp says, "Even one life is worth all the time, effort and money put into the boat."

The boat is on around-the-clock call throughout the fishing and navigation season. During periods of heavy traffic, such as Saturday and Sunday afternoons, it is on the lake looking for trouble rather than waiting for an emergency call.

In the event of a disaster the boat becomes at once a floating ambulance, fire engine and wrecker. It is equipped for nearly any emergency, large or small, day or night, fair weather or foul, near or far.

The emergency equipment, most frequently used is stored in a chest on the deck. Here are 15 kapok life jackets, a set of lines, and a number of fire hoses.

Fire Protection
The fire hoses are connected, when necessary, to a 300 gallon per minute pump. A foam type fire extinguisher unit is stored under the deck for use on gasoline fires. It can throw a stream of fire smothering foam about 75 to 100 feet. Lines of varying thicknesses are stored both above and below deck. A "monkey's paw," or weighted line is used when the line must be thrown only a short distance. A throwgun, powerful enough to hurl a line 350 to 400 feet, is stored below. A capsized boat can be righted with a few tugs on a line, or can be towed back to harbor by the police boat, which is also equipped with towing apparatus. A four man inflatable raft also is carried.

The sick and injured of any boating mishap can be treated in the boat's cabin. Here a complete first aid kit, a supply of stimulants and an inhalator are readily accessible. The boat also carries a large supply of blankets and towels, and chemical heat blocks which are used to keep patients warm.

Three stretchers, an injured basket and arm and leg splints are ready for serious cases. In the event of a drowning, the boat is equipped with marker buoys, drag bars and hooks.

Equip All Boats
All boats on the lake should be equipped with at least the minimum of safety devices. Stilp said, and all boaters should know how to use them. Each craft should have enough life jackets for each passenger, an anchor and a bailing can. In addition each boat should have a supply of fuses or railroad flares in a waterproof floating container.

In an emergency the Neenah police department should be notified immediately. The police station and boat are in constant touch with each other by radio when the boat is operating. The police boat can be mobilized within a few minutes if it is berthed when an emergency occurs.

"Never leave the boat if it tips," the chief advises. "Help is near as long as Neenah has a police boat."

Three Injured As Car Swerves To Miss Child

Waupaca Driver Aimed for Ditch To Avoid Collision

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Ronald G. Rogers, 30, Waupaca, drove his car into the ditch and rolled over at 2:45 Friday afternoon in an attempt to avoid six-year old David Huyck, route 1, Neenah, who ran into the side of the car. The scene of the accident was on Muttart road, a half mile east of Highway 41, in the town of Neenah.

Rogers was traveling west at about 40 miles per hour when he saw two children playing near the south side of the road, he told county police. As he approached the children he blew his horn but the boy started to cross the road, causing Rogers to swerve abruptly to the right, hitting the ditch and turning over.

Before the car went off the road the boy had hit the left side of the vehicle. His collar bone was broken and he suffered multiple contusions on his face. Rogers suffered lacerations of the face and head requiring five stitches. His passenger, Robert Fahrenkrug, 22, 601 Higgins avenue, suffered a broken nose and bruises about the face.

Professor at College to Head Democrats

Dr. Ralph Norem
Succeeds Pitz as County Chairman

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Dr. Ralph Norem, an Oshkosh State college political science professor and Democratic candidate for congress in 1956, Friday night was elected chairman of the Winnebago county Democratic party.

He was elected at the party's meeting held at South Park here and succeeds Herbert Pitz, Oshkosh, who resigned to run for the state senate nomination.

James Megellas, Fond du Lac, Democratic candidate for Sixth district congress, told the Winnebago Democrats Friday night that "where the nation has been in a recession for over a year, the farmer has been in a recession for the last five years." Benson's program of low price supports has tended to increase milk production instead of reducing it, he said.

Asks Food Stamp Plan

He called for enactment of a food stamp plan to help dispose of surplus dairy products by giving them to needy families and children. "Many children are undernourished in this nation and yet we are disturbed by a surplus of goods."

The congressional candidate also advocated a "parity of income" for dairy farmers "to give them a return on their investment and labor comparable to that of their city cousins." He also suggested legislation "allowing each segment of agriculture the privilege of self-help, subject to regulations laid down by congress for the adequate protection of the general public."

Neenah Man, Familiar With Iraq, Watching Week's News Carefully

Tony Carrigan Has Brother-in-Law in Land; Sister Missed Revolt by 3 Days

BY KIT CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Neenah — At least one Neenah man is watching the news from rebellion-torn Iraq these days with a particular personal interest.

Tony Carrigan, an Englishman now living at 641 Oak street, served with the royal air force in the Middle East.

He served with the Middle East for four years ago and now has a brother-in-law there. His sister, Sheila, and her three young sons left Iraq for the general England last Friday, three days before a military coup deposed the monarchy and installed a martial "republic."

The rebellion came as a surprise to Carrigan, who received a letter from Sheila only a month ago which made no mention of latent revolt among the Arabs. Sheila and her husband, John Sargeant, were stationed in Kirkuk with the Iraq Petroleum company. Kirkuk is about 200 miles north of the capital Baghdad, which is under siege.

Own Experience Good
Carrigan served from 1952 to 1954 with the RAF in Iraq. "My own experience of the Iraqi people couldn't have been better," he noted. He said that the Iraqi took well to Americans and Europeans, and were devoted to their own king, Faisal, who was assassinated by a rebel soldier.

Carrigan subscribes to the theory that the revolt was hatched outside Iraq by enemies of the pro-Western Faisal and developed from a long smoldering desire for Arab unity under Egypt's Nasser and political ambitions in Iraq.

He discounted the theory that the rebellion was inspired by communists, noting that neither Nasser nor the strongly nationalistic Arab peoples want a communist government.

The Iraqi are in effect backing the rebellion by their complicity and willingness to stand aside while their kingdom is being destroyed, Carrigan said. He noted that the people were never so prosperous as under Faisal, who tried hard to better the lot of his subjects and, it is understood, sunk large amounts of his personal wealth into public works projects.

"Not From the People"
"The rebellion did not come from the people, but from individuals," Carrigan said. He indicated that the people support it simply by not opposing it.

The outcome of the revolt, while entirely unpredictable, can do nothing but harm the Iraqi's own interests, Carrigan declared. The people have always looked to Americans and Englishmen in time of crisis, and will not succeed if they assume responsibility for controlling the nation's economy.

Carrigan's brother-in-law is to remain in Iraq three more months, according to his contract with the oil company. If he can get out of the country then he will return to England for a 3-month vacation.

Sheila is now in England, making arrangements for a boarding school education for their two oldest sons, aged 7 and 5. She is scheduled to return with her husband to Iraq in six months, the situation in that land by January is at best uncertain at the present time.

Carrigan, 25, and his wife, Ann, came to Neenah last September. Their son, Michael, now 44 months old, was born here. The RAF veteran is employed as an estimator by the Earl Lithographing and Printing company, route 2, Menasha.

The couple came to Neenah to visit Mrs. Carrigan's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Hood, liked it here, and stayed. Before moving to America Carrigan was an assistant buyer for a large British chemical firm.

Translate Value of Diploma Into Cents As Well as Sense
Springfield, Mass. — The Springfield Education association has translated the value of a high school diploma into dollars and cents.

High school graduation completes a 13-year program that cost the taxpayers about $5,000 per student, the teachers' professional organization said.

The high school graduate has estimated lifetime earnings of $189,000, compared with that of $70,000 for a person of limited schooling, the SEA said, adding: "The high school graduate will earn and spend 25 times the $5,000 invested in his education."

Freezing Method, Recipe For Spice Cherry Conserve Are Listed by Home Agent

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — For homemakers planning to freeze fresh cherries, a dry sugar pack is suggested by Miss Lois Klumeyer, county home agent. In order to retain the red color of the fruit, dissolve one-fourth teaspoon ascorbic acid in a little cold water and sprinkle over each quart of cherries. Then use one-half to three-fourths cup sugar for each quart.

Stir the sugar and cherries together until the sugar is dissolved. Pack in moisture, vapor-proof containers, leaving one inch head space. Seal and freeze.

Twelve jelly glasses of spice cherry conserve is made by combining four pounds of pitted sour cherries, two cups seedless raisins, two pounds sugar, two cups cider vinegar, one teaspoon cinnamon and one teaspoon all-spice.

Simmer, stirring often, till the mixture is somewhat thick. Stir in one and one-half cups coarsely chopped pecans. Pour at once into hot, sterilized jelly glasses. Seal immediately with melted paraffin.

Other uses for the cherries on the market, is the family favorite, baked cherry pie. Since it is as easy to make two or three at a time, freeze extra pies for later use. Line a metal, glass or metal-rimmed paper pie plate with crust. Fill with cherries and add the top crust.

Place a second pie plate over the pie and wrap with moisture-vapor proof paper. Seal and freeze. Freezing fruit pies and then baking them when ready for use is the most satisfactory method.

When you are ready to bake the pie, unwrap and cut vent holes in the top crust. Place the pie in a hot oven without thawing. Frozen fruit pies can be stored safely for two months.

Reading, Golfing Interest Wife of Lutheran Pastor

Neenah — Reading historical novels, corcheting and a little knitting are among the interests of Mrs. James Berger, 507 Oak street, whose husband is the newly ordained and installed pastor of Grace Evangelical Lutheran church.

The Bergers, who moved to their new home on July 1, formerly lived in Milwaukee where he commuted the Lutheran Theological seminary in Thiensville. "We just love it here," said pretty, brown-haired Mrs. Berger enthusiastically, "it's such a pleasant change from a big city and the people are so friendly." She also feels

Neenah has much to offer re-creationally, especially for children.

As eight-month-old Amy played with a well-cuddled pink bunny, her mother added that she and the Rev. Mr. Berger enjoy playing golf together. "Since the baby was born, I haven't had much chance to get out though," she explained.

The new minister attended Northwestern college in Watertown previous to enrolling at the Thiensville seminary and Mrs. Berger attended Dr. Martin Luther college, New Ulm, Minn. Both attended the Michigan Lutheran seminary in their home town of Saginaw, Mich., during high school, but didn't meet until her brother introduced them. "He often teases me and tells me it's my turn to find him a girlfriend," Mrs. Berger smiled.

Among her plans at Grace Lutheran church is membership in the Ladies Guild and the church choir. The Bergers were honored Sunday at a reception following his ordination and installation and Mrs. Berger commented she wasn't sure if she could remember the names of all the people who were so friendly.

Trinity Shuts Out Church Loop Stars

Lutherans Score 10 Runs in Sixth To Score 13 to 0 Trouncing Over Combine

Menasha — Trinity Lutheran proved its claim to the Menasha Church league first round championship title by trouncing the League All-Stars in a 13 to 0 shutout at Jefferson park here Friday night.

Ten runs scored in the sixth inning by Trinity ended all doubts as to which squad would come out as the victor. The first round champs bunched 14 hits and several walks off the All-Star hurlers and allowed only five hits with Willy Karnopp doing all the tossing.

Both teams went hitless in the first inning and the All Stars picked up a single by Harold Waters in the top of the second but he was stranded. Bob Brisco led off Trinity's share of the second with the first of his two home runs and John Baldauf followed with a single. Roger Westphal also singled and Baldauf scored on a double steal.

The Lutherans added their third run in the fourth when Darrell Verkuilen doubled and scored on a single by Westphal. The All Stars advanced a man to third in the fifth when Harold Waters singled to right. Right Fielder Marve Zempel slipped in fielding the ball and Waters got to second. A single by Bob Steinway advanced him to third where he died on base.

An error put Bill Gartake on the sacks in the sixth and Bob Stallman came up with a single but neither could score.

Art Haferman started in the box for the All-Stars and gave up the mound duties in the fourth to John Swiechowski. Swiechowski was relieved in the sixth after three runs had scored and the bases were loaded. Gus Block moved over from shortstop to the mound midway in that frame.

Trinity Lutheran started its scoring spree with another homer by Brisco. Baldauf tripled and Verkuilen singled to score Baldauf. Westphal's single scored Verkuilen and he and Duane Wilke scored on a single by Wayne Radtke who was the first batter faced by Block.

Wilke and Bob Hanke had been walked by Swiechowski before he was relieved. Gene Rasmussen picked up a walk from Block to load the bases. Dave Buksyk popped out to right field for the first out and Hanke scored after the catch. Karnopp singled to again load the sacks and Brisco followed with a walk that forced Radtke in.

Hits Double
Baldauf popped out to short center and Verkuilen singled and took second on an error by the All Star catcher, Conrad Ehlers, who threw wide in trying to trap Brisco at third. Karnopp had scored on the hit and Brisco on the error to make the tenth run that inning.

Harold Waters doubled and got to third in the seventh for the All Stars but the next two batters grounded out to the first and second basemen. A walk to Haferman in the eighth put the only other All Star runner on base but that was as far as he got.

Trinity Lutheran put Radtke on with a walk in the seventh and Brisco on the sacks in the eighth with a walk, followed by Bob Van Wyk on a shortstop's fielding error but both died there.

Brisco's two home runs plus Baldauf's triple were the long bill hits for the first round champs. Also starring at the plate were Verkuilen with a double and two singles and Westphal with three one-basers. Two singles by Waters and a double by Bud Griessbach paced the All Stars.

Hortonville Meets Little Chute-Kimberly; Oshkosh, Clintonville Tangle This Evening

Menasha — The Menasha Macs will inaugurate play in the Menasha district semi-pro tournament against New London at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Menasha ball park. Marinette and Shawano will collide in the second game at 4 o'clock. Tonight's tangles match Hortonville against Little Chute - Kimberly at 7 o'clock and Clintonville against Oshkosh at 9 o'clock.

If the Macs win their initial start, they'll continue meet play at 7 o'clock next Saturday night against the Marinette-Shawano winner. If they lose, they'll drop out of competition.

Stripped of Title
The Macs have done well in tournament play in the last half decade although they were stripped of their title by Little Chute last year. They weren't able to stand prosperity and blew a 7-1 lead in losing an 8-7 decision to the Chuters in semi-final play.

Little Chute went on to annex the district title and place second at the state. The Macs romped over New London for third place in the district.

The New London club is a veteran one. It competes in southern division of the Badger Amateur Baseball association where it leads the loop.

Ex U-W Pitcher
Its ace hurler is Sheldon Rusch, who was a star pitcher for the University of Wisconsin several years ago and in the early fifties pitched for New London High school which played in the state meet here.

Others on the roster are Dave Huettner and Marlin Brown, catchers; Melvin Myers, Clarie Baehman, Ted Algiers, Russel Rues, Jim Elke, and Harvey Puch, infielders, and Karl Kalbus, Ed Algiers, Don Pecard, Herb Wilder, Jack Pieper and Norm Knapp outfielders. Dave Roman is the other pitcher. Harold Sief is manager.

List 17-Man Squad
The Macs haven't added any players to their roster but have a 17-man squad which includes Mort Drury, Vic Stenson, "Bud" Koehnke and Gene Gries, pitchers; Koehnke, Don Gosz and Jerry Koslowski, catchers; Carl Springer, Clem Massey, Jack Konetzke, Jim Kersten, Ken Konetzke, and Ron Bunkleman, infielders, and Manager "Butch" Konetzke, John DeYoung, Darold Eggert, Len Heinbigner, and Evan Wiechmann, outfielders.

Last year the Macs defeated Manawa before losing to Little Chute in the semis. The preceding three seasons they capped the district crown. In 1956 they reached the semi-finals at the state meet, lost, but captured third place while the preceding two years they were knocked out in their initial County Stadium appearance.

Kiwanians to Hear Patty Gardenseed
Menasha — Members of the Menasha and Little Chute Kiwanis clubs will hear Patty Gardenseed of Columbus, Ohio, Monday night at the Hotel Menasha. Gardenseed, a world traveler, is now sowing seeds of goodwill and vegetables in starving and underprivileged lands of the world.

43,175 Wrigley Field Fans See Cubs Drop Braves to Second

Moryn's Homer Brings Bruins 5 to 3 Triumph

Chicago —U— Chicago and Milwaukee traded home runs Friday, but the Cubs' blasts carried the most weight and tagged the Braves with a 5-3 loss that dropped the world champions out of first place in the National league.

With the defeat, Milwaukee fell to second place, four percentage points and a half game behind the San Francisco Giants who climbed into first with a 5-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Friday night. The Cubs remained third, only three games behind the Giants.

Homers accounted for all the Chicago runs and hung the loss, his third, on Carlton Willey who went all the way for Milwaukee, allowing eight hits. He has two victories since returning from Wichita in the American association.

3-Run Lead
The Cubs bounced off to a 3-run lead in the third as Al Dark led off with a single and Lee Walls followed with one of the same to stretch his hitting streak to 14 games.

Then Ernie Banks smashed his twenty-fifth homer, a 420-foot drive into the left field stands to the delight of a crowd of 43,175, highest in Wrigley field in several years. Paid attendance was 27,257, with another 15,916 present under Ladies day privileges. An estimated 2,000 persons were turned away.

The Braves pulled into a tie in the fifth and sixth innings, and the Cubs sailed it away in

Wyatt Goes to Hospital

Sympathetic Cubs Say Injuries, Illness Hurting Braves' Chances

Chicago —(AP)— The Chicago Cubs Friday were full of sympathy for the Braves, but knocked Milwaukee out of first place in the National League as the rash of illness and injuries that has hobbled the club spread to the coaching ranks.

After the Cubs beat Milwaukee, 5-3, Friday, and dropped the Braves to second, pitching Coach Whitlow Wyatt complained of feeling ill and then collapsed in his chair.

The 49-year-old Wyatt was taken to Wesley Memorial hospital where attendants said his condition was not serious and that he was apparently suffering from overstrain. He was held overnight for tests and examinations.

Others sick or hurt are Johnny Logan, battling the virus while he plays; Ed Mathews, out with a sprained ankle; Red Schoendienst, on the shelf with a broken finger, and Wes Covington, who is playing despite a knee that refuses to heal.

Braves Vulnerable

"The Braves are vulnerable," said Walt Moryn who drove in the deciding runs with a homer. "And if Covington can't play all year, the club is really in trouble. With one leg he's better than a lot of guys with two, but how long can he go?"

"Let's face it," said Lee Walls. "The Braves have half a ball club with guys like Mathews and Schoendienst on the bench. Sure, they've got good replacements, but it's not like having Ed and Red in there."

More of Same

More of the same came from Chicago Manager Bob Schefling who said, "I'll bet you haven't had your regular lineup in there for 10 games all season. That's bound to hurt. I've said all along Milwaukee was the club to beat. But everyone has a chance, and we're right in there. We have as good a chance as anyone."

In a move to do something about their troubles the Braves front office announced in Milwaukee Friday night that infielder Casey Wise was being recalled from Wichita in time to join the club here before today's game.

Wise has been hitting .303 with the American association club. He'll fill the place on the roster left open when pitcher Bob Buhl was placed on the disabled list because of a sore right arm, his throwing arm.

Packers Lose Two Linemen

Mike Bill Has Operation While Ledbetter Quits

Green Bay —(AP)— The Green Bay Packers Friday lost two highly regarded rookie linemen, Clyde Ledbetter of Bay-lor and Mike Bill of Syracuse, in addition to tackle Ray Krouse.

Ledbetter has taken a non-football job and Bill recently underwent an operation. A third rookie lineman, Bob Haynes of Sam Houston, Tex., State, was injured in an auto accident recently.

To Play in Washington

The deal for Krouse, mountainous lineman from the Detroit Lions, fell through Thursday when Krouse said he did not want to play in Green Bay because of the illness of his wife. The Lions then traded Krouse to Washington so he could be near his wife.

In other player moves, the Packers picked up Jim Shanley, a halfback from Oregon, as a free agent, and Alton Ro-mine, a back who played in Canada last season. Two other linemen, tackle George Schussler from Carroll College and center Don Wilson from Rice who was drafted two years ago, also will try out for the team.

In addition, Bob Burris, a back from Oklahoma who quit last summer, will try out again.

Ed Woody Leads Riverview Loop With Card of 37

Ed Woody fired a 1-over-par 37 for low gross score in the latest action in the Riverview Country club Men's Twilight golf league.

Five more golfers—John Reeve, William Daniel, Jr., Rudy Vogt, Charles Dostal, and Bob Barlament—shot 38s. Dr. E. N. Krueger had a 39.

Prize winners for the day were two low net foursums: the team of Otto Schultz, Don Brown, Ed Woody, and William Gallagher, and the other team of J.S. Wells, William Zuehlke, Jr., Dr. Krueger, and W. D. Kaulum.

The Orbisons continued to lead the league, scoring 29 points for a total of 1874. The DeCocks remained in second with 1824.

Malzone's Grand Slam Paces 11-9 Win Over Tigers in Slugfest

BY ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers had at it last night swatting 33 hits between them as Boston won, 11-9, on Frank Malzone's grand-slam homer.

That gave the second-place Red Sox a game on New York, beaten, 2-1, by Kansas City, and Dick Tomaneck, who came within an out of being the first left-hander to shut out the Yankees in two years.

but only two of the Giants' five runs were earned.

Don Newcombe, whose only other victory this season also is over the Cards, gave up home runs by pinch-hitter Joe Taylor and Joe Cunningham, but his 2-run homer, a double and a single himself while winning the opener. Walt Dropo's 3-run double put it away in the sixth.

Loses 7th

Wilmer Mizell lost his seventh as the Reds scored two in the first without a hit on two walks, a passed ball and sacrifice fly. The Reds, just off a 7-game losing string, built a three-game winning streak on home runs by George Crowe and Frank Robinson in the nightcap. Robinson's 11th broke it up in the ninth off Bob Mabe (0-1). Bob Purkey won his 11th, blanking the Cards, who have lost seven in a row, on three hits after the first inning, when two singles, a walk and a fly ball scored their run.

The Dodgers won it in a 6-run fifth inning with Steve Bilko hitting a 2-on homer. Don Zimmer also homered for the Dodgers, while Chico Fernandez and Ed Bouchee homered for the Phils, who have lost seven straight. Carl Erskine won it, Jack Sanford lost it, both in relief.

the eighth as Walt Moryn banged his seventeenth home run after Sammy Taylor, a former Brave, had doubled for his only hit of the game. Moryn's homer was also his only hit in four trips.

Briggs Wins 4th

Johnny Briggs, winning his fourth without a defeat, held the Braves scoreless on two hits until the fifth when Joe Adcock smashed his eleventh homer, leading off. Del Crandall's double and Bill Bruton's single produced another Milwaukee run in the same inning.

Hank Aaron gave Milwaukee its other run with his nineteenth homer in the sixth. It was the 103rd of the season for the Braves, compared with 105 for the Cubs.

Milwaukee managed only seven hits off Briggs as their modest winning streak was broken at four games. The Cubs have won 11 of their last 15 starts.

The teams were matched again today with Joe Jay, 4-3 facing Moe Drabowsky, 8-8.

Scanlon Stops Kerwin in 10

Unanimous Verdict Is San Franciscan's 26th Straight Win

New York —(AP)— Undefeated and unranked Bobby Scanlon is after bigger game in the lightweight division. The classy San Franciscan declared himself ready for ranking fighters after soundly drubbing taller and heavier Gale Kerwin in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square garden Friday night.

Scanlon, a pro four years, has won 26 straight and is unbeaten in 31.

Bobby gave away height (5-5 to 5-8), weight (134 to 139) and reach to Kerwin but carried the fight all the way to his rangy foe.

The quick-thinking collegian with the educated left dropped Kerwin in the second round for an 8-count with two rapid-fire left hooks to the jaw. And then he hurt Gale in the fourth and tenth with the same type of punches.

Calls Holding

Referee Art Mercante took the eighth round from Scanlon for "repeated holding." Kerwin also had been warned for butting and hitting on the break. In the tenth round he pushed Scanlon to the floor. It was no knockdown, of course.

Kerwin's record now is 27-7-1. Because of the long layoff, Kerwin was a 7-5 underdog.

The officials all had Scanlon far ahead. Referee Mercante and Judge Bill Recht each had it 6-3-1 in rounds, Judge Artie Schwartz scored it 7-3. The AP card had it 7-5 for Scanlon.

Westrum Says Giants Today Nearly as Good as in 1954

San Francisco —(AP)— How do the current San Francisco Giants, leading the National League by one-half game, compare with the New York Giants of 1954, who won the world championship?

"I would have to say this team is just about as good as the team of 1954," says Giant Coach Wes Westrum, the regular catcher four years ago.

"To sum it up, you might say this team has more power and less experience. But those rookies are getting better. They've been around the circuit now and they're getting to know the pitchers. They'll get better."

Giammalva Beats MacKay In Clay Test

Chicago —(AP)— Sammy Giammalva, who quit tennis because he didn't think he was getting anywhere, has reached the highpoint in his comeback.

Giammalva played near perfect tennis Friday in the National Clay Court tennis tournament to upset top-seeded Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, in quarterfinals competition.

Chicago's Grant Golden pulled the second major upset of the tournament by whipping Whitey Reed of Alameda, Calif., 7-5, 6-1, 6-1. Reed was seeded third, Golden fifth. Golden meets Giammalva in today's semi-finals and Bernard "Tut" Bartzten of Dallas will face Alejandro Olmedo of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Dorothy Head Knodel gained a berth in the women's singles finals, blanking Baby Vivanco of Mexico City 6-0, 6-0.

Orioles Compile 9-21 Record in TV Games

Baltimore —(AP)— The Baltimore Orioles are the fourth place team in the American League, contrary to what local television fans may think.

Baltimore's 5-1 loss to the Cleveland Indians Friday night was televised, giving the Orioles a lowly 9-21 record playing before living room armchair strategists.

On the screen, Baltimore shows a 32-23 mark, winning percentage of .582.

Nisewonger Doing Well In Switch to Outfield

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Jim Nisewonger, pitcher-turned-outfielder, is ready to give his wing a test on the mound any time he gets the word.

But until that happens, Nisewonger will continue patrolling the outfield and taking his regular batting turn for the Fox Cities — jobs he's handled nicely in the last six or seven weeks.

Although he didn't break into the lineup until June 7, Nisewonger is already fourth high on the Foxes' RBI list. Before Friday's scheduled games, his 38 hits had sent 28 runs across the plate. He had moved his average up around the .275 level.

18 Wins in 1st Year

This is the first of six years of pro ball that the 23-year-old Nisewonger hasn't pitched part or all of the season.

He broke in with a brilliant record (18 wins in 24 decisions and a 1.98 ERA) at Brunswick, Ga. (Class D Georgia-Florida league) in 1953. Ever since then, Jim has had arm trouble, on and off. Last year, he pitched only for about three weeks at the start of the season before going to the outfield (and batting .289) for Thibodaux, La. in the Evangeline league.

Nisewonger's lifetime pitching record is 37-22 — an encouraging one that explains his willingness to go back to the chucking trade some day. In fact, Jim says his arm feels good right now.

The 6-foot, 190 pound Nisewonger, who wears glasses on the field, came into the Washington farm system this spring after his release by the Braves. Milwaukee drafted him last winter and took him to the Waycross, Ga., training camp. He played for Waycross in the G-F league for the early weeks of the season. The Braves did some wholesale releasing at Waycross, Jim reports.

Played Football at Georgia

Born in Cleveland, Ga., Nisewonger now lives in Doraville, just outside Atlanta. He was a versatile and accomplished high school athlete in Atlanta. He was chosen on three city-wide all-star teams in baseball and one in football.

Jim played three years of American Legion ball, and was a member of a state champion. He enrolled in the University of Georgia and, as a freshman, played one full season of football on the varsity team. He was a reserve quarterback.

Sportswise, he cast his lot with professional baseball and signed with Pittsburgh the next spring.

He was in the Pirate system for one full season and parts of two more before moving to the Cincinnati chain in 1956. The Braves drafted him from Cincy.

The soft-spoken and genial Nisewonger has also attended the Georgia State Business school, in addition to the U. of G., but has not yet decided what he will do during the next off-season.

Arrangements call for a practice round starting at 9 a.m., with scoring scheduled to begin one hour later. The afternoon session will get underway at 1:30. To be eligible for championship honors archers are required to compete in both the morning and afternoon rounds. The tournament will be held on Sports island at Lakeside park.

Other Fox Cities champions in the sight class are Tom Hennes, Kaukauna, men; Della Grimm, Little Chute, women; John Wildenber, Little Chute, junior boys; and Dawn Bloch, Kimberly, cadet girls.

The only archer not from the Fox Cities who holds a sight championship is Donna Rimmel of North Fond du Lac. Ginny Ayres, women's champion from Menasha, is the lone Fox Cities winner in the barebow division.

Other defending champions in the barebow class are Dr. Donald Peck, Omro, men; Malcolm Davis, Omro, junior boys;

Citizens Group Seeks Beach Improvements

Attends Council Meeting to Ask for More Lifeguards, Better Bath House Facilities

Manawa — A citizens committee requesting bathroom improvements and additional lifeguards attended the Manawa city council meeting Thursday evening to discuss beach problems.

The main spokesman for the group was the Rev. Norman Lawton who was concerned about insufficient guarding at the beach. He said it was impossible for one guard to watch the entire water area.

The Methodist minister, a former camp beach director, said it was wrong to burden one lifeguard with the "impossible job" of watching such a wide area. He said, "we have been fortunate in avoiding trouble" and stated that he wanted to see both the children and lifeguard get a fair break.

Lifeguard, Mrs. Wanda Roeder, did not believe the picture was as bleak as some had painted it, but said she would welcome assistance. She proposed that several junior lifeguards be hired for next year.

Mrs. Roeder suggested enlarging the eastern portion of the beach and hiring a lifeguard to watch the swimming area in addition to the one conducting classes.

Weeds in the water were another complaint of swimmers, she stated. She proposed that chemicals be obtained from the conservation department to kill them. Ald. Elmer Bonikowski said he had checked into the situation and would make plans for next year.

She claimed there had been trouble controlling older youths early in the season who were using the bathroom as a smoking room and ruining children's clothing, but this has all stopped, she said.

The lifeguard urged the council to think of guards, a bathroom and the weed situation for next year's action.

New Control
Mayor Charles Hoffman explained that as of July 1, the Manawa school district had assumed control of recreational activities and planning. Whether the beach problems will be handled by school board members or the council was not stated.

The board assumed control since voters decided that the cost would be shared more equally. Both local and area children swim at the beach and participate in the recreation programs.

Ervin Esche said the bathroom was built in 1938 and a new one was needed. Ald. Robert Plotter wondered how many children swam from the city and how many from other areas.

and learned that about 80 percent were Manawa youths.

Supt. of Schools Irvin Lotz said he hadn't noticed any harmful horseplay at the beach, but suggested that a notice be posted showing times children are at lessons to give closer parental supervision.

A. J. Grab said that the dead-heads in the river should be removed. Stewart Craig suggested that poles and rings be set up on the raft, but Mrs. Roeder said this had been done in the past and that they were stolen.

Other Action
Ald. Oscar Sellin reported that the new dumping site on the Albert Haas property in the town of Little Wolf was ready for use. The site is about 1 1/2 miles south of the city on County Trunk BB.

Sellin suggested the old dump be closed now that it has been covered partially and that more fill be hauled to finish the job.

Manawa police were asked about recent arrests since businessmen had complained to the mayor about arrests of outsiders. Police explained that the arrests are determined by the violators and that it made no difference where they were from. Patrolman Rodney Taubel said most Manawa residents drive carefully and do not violate.

Patrolman Harvey Rosenau stated that with himself, Police Chief Rowland and Taubel on duty at intermittent hours, the accident rate in Manawa had dropped considerably and speeding has been generally checked.

Waupaca 4-H'ers Attend State Camp

Waupaca — Two Waupaca county 4-H youths, Sam Thiel and Charles Swan, will attend the state conservation camp at Wisconsin Dells.

The youths were selected on the basis of quality work, projects and junior leadership ability. Purpose of the 4-day camp is training of junior leaders.

While there they will learn soil conservation practices, tree identification, wildlife study, forestry practices and tree planting.

They will be directed by Robert Ellis and Edward Peterson, conservation specialists from the University of Wisconsin.

Skenandore Pleads for Justice as Probe Ends

Brown County Sheriff Says 'Dirt Has Been Planted on My Life' in Removal Proceedings

Green Bay—(U.P.)—Sheriff Artley Skenandore testified Friday the money and gifts he accepted from a woman tavern operator were loans and not bribes, to allow a house of prostitution to operate.

"I just hope that justice will see through the dirt that has been planted here on my life," Skenandore said on the final day of the 4-day hearing on a petition for his removal from office.

Skenandore admitted receiving $850 from Mrs. Mary Ann Sanderson, whose Clipper Inn was padlocked after two convictions for operating as a

Jail, Probation Given Pair on Theft Charges

Two youths were given probation and jail terms for theft, and one of them for forgery Friday in municipal court.

Richard VanHammond, 19, 211 W. Tenth street, Kaukauna, was sent to the county jail for six months for his part in stealing $45 worth of coupon books from the Clark Service station, Highway 41 in Little Chute.

His partner in the venture, Ronald Coonen, 19, 1073 W. Wisconsin avenue, Kaukauna, also got six months in jail for theft, but sentence was stayed by Judge Oscar J. Schmiede and the youth put on two years probation to the state department of public welfare.

Coonen, also charged with joining an 18-year-old youth in forging a $48.60 check, was sentenced to a 1-to-2-year term in the reformatory for forgery. Judge Schmiede also stayed sentence on that charge and placed Coonen on probation for two years, to run concurrently with the other sentence.

Coonen's partner in the forging venture previously was put on probation.

Chamber Offshoot Special Industrial Division Approved

Creation of an industrial division of the chamber of commerce was approved Friday by the chamber's board of directors.

The action was urged by F. H. Orblison, chairman of a special industrial program committee appointed in June, 1957, by President Victor I. Minahan, Jr.

The new division should be an outgrowth of the present industrial steering committee, headed by John Hayes, Orblison said. It should operate like the Appleton Downtown Retail association, selecting its own officers and raising its own funds, he added.

Three reasons were given by Orblison:

1. Appleton's business community is growing.
2. The new division would be a great aid to industrial development. Industry looks for services and such a division could provide great service, he said.
3. Industry, through a questionnaire his committee sent out, has indicated substantial evidence of interest.

Specifically, Orblison would have the new division establish an agency to gather facts useful to members and an educational program, work closely with industrial development leaders and set any other programs members want.

As the division increases its activity, it may be necessary to increase the chamber staff,

State GOP Head Claims Change In Democrat Party

Stevens Point — State Republican Chairman Claude Jasper, Madison, declared today at the statewide Young Republican campaign school that leadership of the present Democrat party of Wisconsin has made it impossible for traditional Democrats to support Democrat candidates in 1958.

"The Democrat party has been taken over by labor bosses, whose primary concern is not the welfare of individual union members but their own personal political power."

"The voters of Wisconsin got a tip-off as to the complete subservience of Bill Proxmire to Walter Reuther at the recent Democratic convention in La Crosse, when one of Proxmire's chief lieutenants told the delegates that they should work to increase the labor-liberal vote in congress," Jasper concluded. "The re-election of Proxmire in November would only serve to increase Walter Reuther's power in congress."

Dismiss Charge

North Central Begins Buying Of Convairs

Hopes to Replace All Present Planes With Them Eventually

North Central Airlines today announced plans for what may be eventual replacement of all its planes with Convair 340-type aircraft.

The airlines is scheduled to begin commercial air service at Outagamie county airport Oct. 27.

A North Central news release said Continental Airlines will deliver five of the 44-passenger planes starting January. The new planes will be used on routes serving 53 cities in nine states starting June 1.

Hal N. Carr, North Central president, couldn't be reached by telephone in Minneapolis for comment, but it is doubtful the heavier planes will be used immediately at the county port.

May Serve Appleton
They may be used eventually at the county port. The release states, "Convair schedules would be extended to the remainder of the routes as rapidly as justified by traffic development."

The present 3,750-foot east-west runway at the county port has been called inadequate for Convairs.

A. D. Niemeyer, North Central operations vice president, said in December, 1955, when reporting Convairs were on the way, that two runways, one 4,500 feet and the other 4,200 feet, both minimum distances, should be constructed.

County Fair Draws Record Friday Crowd

With the biggest Friday attendance in history behind it, the 1958 Outagamie County fair is looking for more record breaking crowds over the weekend.

Attendance Friday was 4,982 paid, with an estimated 2,000 children admitted to the grounds free. Michael Burns, fair secretary, said the total of nearly 7,000 was the largest Friday crowd in history.

With the biggest attractions of the fair yet to come, officials are hopeful of setting new attendance records.

Predict Fair Weather 'Til Sunday Night

Fox Cities area residents can look for fair and pleasant weather for the Outagamie county fair today and most of Sunday, but the weatherman predicted scattered showers are likely to move into the east portion of the state by Sunday evening.

Appleton had a high of 79 Friday, with an overnight low of 57 early this morning. The temperature at 10:30 this morning had climbed back to 67 with the wind from the north at 10 miles and the barometer at an even 30 inches.

The clear skies caused temperatures in the state to drop into the low 50s and high 40s early today. Minimums ranged from 48 at Lone Rock and 49 at Superior to 56 in the Beloit area.

Friday's maximum temperatures were 3 to 7 degrees below normal. Park Falls and Superior were the coolest spots with a high of 74 and La Crosse topped the readings with 80.

Light rain or drizzle fell in central and southwestern areas of the state Friday morning but skies cleared during the afternoon.

Thieves Get $109 At Dairy Store

Thieves Friday got $109 from a cash drawer at the Dairy Queen, 1819 N. Richmond street.

Merlin Liebbeit, owner, told police the thieves did not touch $25 kept for change in the same drawer space. The $109 consisted of about $70 in bills and $39 in change and represented a day's receipts ready for the bank, Liebbeit told police.

Police said the thieves apparently got into the building through a west side window. Nothing in the store was touched except the cash drawer.
